Promoting Assessment as Learning Ruth Dann, 2012-09-10 Promoting Assessment as Learning sets out to re-examine the relationship between assessment and learning in the classroom It argues that assessment is an important part of pupil learning and needs to be understood by pupils in order to help them make judgements about their own progress This timely book explores the theories of learning and assessment within the context of national tests and also through the theme of self-assessment It offers practical approaches to help teachers translate national policy into meaningful classroom practice and suggests ways to help pupils develop their own assessment skills through a process of consolidation reflection and revision This book will appeal to new and practising primary school teachers and headteachers and those on in-service courses It will also be of interest to students on initial teacher training and higher degree courses

Helping Teachers Develop Sara Bubb, 2005-09-20 Helping Teachers Develop is a positive uplifting encouraging publication very good value for money It is the sort of publication we need in the profession and it is well worth being part of every head teacher or staff development tutor's collection of really useful books I have to confess even before I had finished reading it for review I was using Helping Teachers Develop with my trainee teachers Peter Stammers in the Journal of In-service Education The book explores ways teachers at all levels can mentor others and improve their careers It also contains guidance on ways to cope with having your lessons observed and how to make constructive comments as an observer Michael Shaw Times Educational Supplement This is another excellent and accessible practice guide from someone who unusually understands both the classroom teacher from long years of practice and the theory The chapter on observation of teachers should be read by every headteacher deputy and teacher who engages in monitoring classroom practice Note a few inspectors would benefit too It's one to read and then refer to on a regular basis if you work in schools or PGCE departments Tim Brighouse Chief Adviser for London Schools Helping teachers develop whether they're trainees newly or recently qualified in their first three ten or twenty years and whether they're superb or struggling is vital for the profession for the millions of children who'll learn more as a result Schools have to take greater responsibility for staff's continuing professional development CPD but there is little real help for the people who develop teachers The best teachers will be expected to mentor trainee and newly qualified teachers NQTs and share good practice with all colleagues Drawing directly on real life experience and the latest research this book will help people in a mentoring coaching advisory or management role to develop teachers through understanding adult learning and the CPD cycle to meet needs from the range of professional development activities to carry out observations and give oral and written feedback in a range of situations to help and monitor planning and other parts of the job to help teachers
