Learning from the Slums for the Development of Emerging Cities Jean-Claude Bolay, Jérôme Chenal, Yves Pedrazzini, 2016-07-29 This book deals with slums as a specific question and a central focus in urban planning. It radically reverses the official version of the history of world cities as narrated during decades: slums are not at the margin of the contemporary process of urbanization; they are an integral part of it. Taking slums as its central focus and regarding them as symptomatic of the ongoing transformations of the city, the book moves to the very heart of the problem in urban planning. The book presents 16 case studies that form the basis for a theory of the slum and a concrete development manual for the slum. The interdisciplinary approach to analysing slums presented in this volume enables researchers to look at social and economic dimensions as well as at the constructive and spatial aspects of slums. Both at the scientific and the pedagogical level, it allows one to recognize the efforts of the slum's residents, key players in the past and present development of their neighborhoods, and to challenge public and private stakeholders on priorities decided in urban planning and their mismatches when compared to the findings of experts and the demands of users. Whether one is a planner, an architect, a developer, or simply an inhabitant of an emerging city, the presence of slums in one's environment at the same time central and nonetheless incongruous makes a person ask questions. Today it is out of the question to be satisfied with the assumption of the marginality of slums or of the incongruous nature of their existence. Slums are now fully part of the urban landscape, contributing to the identity and the urbanism of cities and their stakeholders.

Staging the Slums, Slumming the Stage J. Westgate, 2014-10-15 Drawing on traditional archival research, reception theory, cultural histories of slumming, and recent work in critical theory on literary representations of poverty, Westgate argues that the productions of slum plays served as enactments of the emergent definitions of the slum and the corresponding ethical obligations involved therein.

Exploring the Slums of Kolkata Dr Krishnakali Roy, 2024-02-01 Kolkata has long been celebrated for its rich cultural heritage, intellectual fervor, and colonial-era architecture. However, there is much more to the city, including socioeconomic disparities, the problem of urban migration, and the struggle for survival. The journey embarked upon in this book takes us through the crowded, narrow lanes of slums in Kolkata. We navigate through the daily struggles for access to clean water, education, healthcare, and dignified employment. This book is a sociological study that invites readers to explore the nuances of poverty the impact of urbanization and the collective efforts to carve out a dignified existence The data collection process undertaken to write this book are of two types a Secondary data collection b Primary data collection The primary data are the data s which is in original form and is directly collected from the field The secondary data s are those data that were already collected someone and which may have passed through some statistical process The secondary data have been collected mainly from Census of India National Atlas and thematic Mapping Organization Kolkata Metropolitan Developmental Authority and Kolkata Municipal Corporation etc As we navigate the intricacies of life within Kolkata s slums it is essential to recognize the systemic issues that perpetuate these challenges From inadequate infrastructure to limited access to education and healthcare the complexities are deeply rooted in broader societal structures

Assessing the environmental health hazards and housing development in the slums of Abuja, Fct. Matthias Okoro,S.

Uchegbu,2014-09-18 Master s Thesis from the year 2014 in the subject Environmental Sciences grade A University of Nigeria CENTER FOR ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT AND CONTROL course ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT AND CONTROL language English abstract The hypotheses formulated here are that the indicators of environmental health hazards and housing development as measured by the number of houses are not significant in the slums of Abuja that the spread of health devastating diseases and ramshackle developed houses are not significant in the slum areas and that the Environmental Health Hazards does not differ significantly among the slum areas Secondary source of data collection such as written source materials and primary source of data collection which include participant observation questionnaire oral interview and laboratory work were employed to collect data The sample size number was firstly determined using Yaro Yamani formula Yaro Yamani formula is donated as $n = \frac{10}{\sqrt{p}}$ population 1 population significance level 2 This gave 400 questionnaires But four hundred questionnaires were just 0 75% of the total estimated average household In other to get a sample size that represents at least two percent of the total estimated average household size it was done by finding two percent of an estimated average household size in each of the slums So 1067 questionnaire that amount to two percent of the total estimated average household were randomly distributed to the dwellers of ten sampled slum areas of Abuja and 652 were retrieved After the analyses the Principal Component Analysis produce factor scores of environmental health hazards and housing development from different slums which shows that the indicators of environmental health hazards in the form of dirty drains and open waste dumps increase with houses and house hold numbers The PCA further produce factor score of the occurrence of health devastating diseases and ramshackle developed houses in the slums of Abuja which shows that health devastating diseases increase with high number of ramshackle developed houses Also the result of one way ANOVA conducted shows that the calculated F Value for all the heavy metals in the soil are less than the Critical F Value of 4 76 at 3and 6 degree of freedom with confident level of 0 05 The analysis also shows that the calculated significant level is above

99% in all the variables meaning that the rate of environmental health hazards in form of heavy metal concentrations in the soil does not differ significantly among the slums These findings show that the indicator of environmental hazards does not affect the rate of housing development in the various
