The Blue Bird Maurice Maeterlinck, 1911 In the opening scene the two children gleefully describe the beautiful decorations and rich desserts that they see in the house of a wealthy family nearby When B rylune says that it is wrong for the rich not to share their cakes with Tytyl and Mytyl the boy corrects her It is enough that he gets to watch others happiness their joy does not create envy in him The theme is emphasized again when the children meet the Luxuries particularly the biggest one of all the Luxury of Being Rich When Tytyl turns the diamond the hall is bathed with a dazzling brightness and the Luxuries run wildly in search of a dark corner where they may hide their ugliness from the ethereal light At the end of the play Tytyl shows what he has learned about happiness He looks out the window at the forest and remarks how beautiful it is The inside of the house looks much lovelier to him than it did before Also he creates great happiness for another by giving his pet bird which seems much bluer than before to the sick child The Ministry of Angels Here and Beyond Mrs. Joy Snell, 1920 Life Beyond Death Minot Judson Savage, 1899 Beyond Death Hugh Johnston, 1903
