The Singing Knives Frank Stanford, 2008 Poetry THE SINGING KNIVES originally published in 1971 by Broughton's Mill Mountain Press is Frank Sanford's first collection of poetry Reprinted by his own press Lost Roads Publisher after his death THE SINGING KNIVES debuts the work of a twenty something year old boy way ahead of his time and in a state of unrest capturing poetry's more primal and mysterious possibilities David Clewell It is astonishing to me that I was not even aware of this superbly accomplished and moving poet There is a great deal of pain in the poems but it is a pain that makes sense a tragic pain whose meaning rises from the way the poems are so firmly molded and formed from within James Wright The Singing Knives Frank Stanford, 1971 The Life and Poetry of Frank Stanford James McWilliams, 2025-07-01 The full throated biography fans have been yearning for Kirkus Starred Review April 2025 When twenty nine year old Frank Stanford put three bullets in his chest on June 3 1978 he ended a life that had been inextricably linked with poetry since childhood Deeply influential but largely unknown outside his corner of the poetry world this prodigy of the American South inspired a cult following that has kept his reputation and work flickering on the periphery of the American literary tradition ever since The Life and Poetry of Frank Stanford offers for the first time a comprehensive study of Stanford's life and work introducing to a broad readership poetry that remains both captivating to poets and in its celebration of everyday experience over academic erudition accessible to those who rarely read poetry Stanford's poems range from one line to his 15 283 line epic The Battlefield Where the Moon Says I Love You The vital thread running through all of his poetry is an ear for language that vies with Walt Whitman in its expansiveness and generosity Stanford's omnivorous attraction to vernacular particularly Black and rural vernacular centered on an admiration for the marginalized and eccentric Blending the Southern Gothic of Faulkner and O'Connor with a racially egalitarian vision his poetry thrives on the stories and traditions of the oppressed and forgotten The themes that preoccupied Stanford's prolific output language sex death class geography commercialism surrealism film race also preoccupied the poet in his daily life which was marked by heavy drinking philandering mental instability emotional abuse and through it all an inveterate desire for beauty Constantly attentive to this tension biographer James McWilliams traces the short and painfully complicated life of this hidden talent who left a lifetime's worth of poetry that through its grounding in the mundane achieved a vision of the transcendent Under the Absolute Amir Frank A. Martin, 1907 Under the Absolute Amir is an account of life and work in Kabul by Frank A. Martin who for eight years was engineer in chief to Amir Abd al Rahman Khan reigned 1880 1901 ruler of Afghanistan and later to his son and successor Habibullah reigned 1901 19 The book provides a first hand overview of Afghanistan written from a European perspective and is particularly interesting on subjects such as roads trade and economic development with which the author was directly involved It includes chapters on travel the city of Kabul manners and customs the life of Europeans in Afghanistan soldiers and arms geological conditions in the country religion and the political situation As indicated by the title Martin is especially struck by absolute monarchy as the Afghan system of government He opines that fortunately there are few parts of the earth where such a form of government exists for it is not one which is likely to produce the greatest good for the greatest number Chapters devoted to the character and policies of Amir Abd al Rahman Khan prisons and prisoners and tortures and methods of execution underscore the despotic character of the state Martin also stresses however the interest of both Abd al Rahman Khan and his son in the modernization and development of the country and the keen interest that both took in trade commerce and mechanical tools of all kinds The chapter Trades and Commerce draws on Martin s involvement in managing the government workshops which at this time constituted the main industrial base of the country The chapter on the political situation contains accounts of Martin s conversations with Abd al Rahman Khan including one in which the Afghan ruler expresses his interest in obtaining a strip of territory in Baluchistan that would provide direct access to the sea The book is illustrated with photographs and drawings by the author The Maid of the Whispering Hills Vingie Eve Roe,1912
