Doyle,2005-01-15 Honest but mistaken eyewitnesses are the leading cause of wrongful convictions in the United States As the innocent go to prison their lives are shattered as the criminal goes free the public remains vulnerable With a vivid cast of brilliant scientists street wise cops and former prosecutors all haunted by the legacy of wrongful convictions some directly involved with one Doyle sheds light on the intersection of personal ambition legal and political principles and scientific inquiry He highlights real possibilities for improved identification their challenges to the legal tradition and persuasively argues that the promises of improved justice must be realized before another wrongful conviction lets the guilty go free This is an important look at a pressing issue in the news with every exoneration

A Year of Sport and Natural History Oswald Crawford,1895 School Gun Violence in YA Literature Laura A. Brown,2022-05-09 Since Columbine the topic of school shootings has become ever more prevalent in the media in research and in fiction This book provides analyses of several Young Adult YA texts about school shootings and uncovers how the authors represent such violence and those who perpetrate it while developing stories that effectively speak to their adolescent readers Employing Bronfenbrenner s Ecological Systems Theory Laura A Brown examines how the texts frame particular settings and events as important to the development of young people as a way of accounting for the shootings Likewise psychologist Peter Langman s classification of the three populations of school shooters is utilized as a framework to analyze the characterization of fictional shooters in the texts The author argues that these texts while not easy to read are important as they problematize the ways we think about approach and react to school shootings and the students who commit such acts
