The Unaccepted Child:

The Developing Person Through the Life Span Kathleen Stassen Berger, 2005 The Developing Person Through the Life Span Sixth Edition presents theory research practical examples and policy issues in a way that inspires students to think about human development and about the individual's role in the community and the world Review the new edition and you'll find Berger's signature strengths on display the perceptive analysis of current research the lively and personal writing style and the unmistakable commitment to students You'll also find a wealth of new topics plus a video based Media Tool Kit that takes the teaching and learning of human development to a new level Narrower Band Typology of Rejected and Neglected Children Derived from Multiple Sources William Kerry Miller, 1987 How and why Children Hate Ved P. Varma, 1993-01-01 We all hate from time to time but children hate more than adults The contributors to this book discuss how to recognise and handle hatred in a practical way Their different perspectives enable the reader to obtain a comprehensive picture of available models and management approaches to children's primitive hatred The Strains and Stresses on the Child Welfare Worker Ner Littner, 1957 The Child's Unconscious Mind Wilfrid Lay, 1919

Expanding the Options in Child Placement Anita Weiner, Eugene Weiner, 1990 On the basis of a 14 year follow up study of 268 infants in residential care the authors evaluate the relative merits of adoption foster care return to parents or extended family They stress the significance of the absentee parent of social work intervention the advantages of late adoption and make a case for a new look at residential group care as a viable alternative for dependent children in placement This is the only study to follow up over 14 years an entire population of infants in residential care It contains comprehensive data on all placement alternatives to which these children were exposed including adoption It evaluates the comparative impact of each of these placement paths on the subsequent life of the children and their families The Development of Children Michael Cole, Sheila R. Cole, Cynthia Lightfoot, 2005 Development is best understood as a fusion of biological social and psychological processes interacting in the unique medium of human culture In this text the authors have tried to show not only the role of each of these factors considered separately but also how they interact in diverse cultural contexts to create whole unique human beings Pref Unexpected Child Patricia Grossman, 2000 In this provocative novel her third Patricia Grossman gracefully tackles the complex issues of adoption and lesbian parenting and blends them with the ageless and universal themes of motherhood and rescue BOOK JACKET Students at Risk of School Failure José Jesús Gázquez, José Carlos Núñez, 2018-10-18 The main objective of this Research Topic is to determine the conditions that place students at risk of school failure identifying student and context variables In spite of the fact that there is currently little doubt about how one learns and how to teach in some countries of the developed world there is still there is a high rate of school failure Although the term school failure is a very complex construct insofar as its causes consequences and development from the field of educational psychology the construct student engagement has recently gained special interest in an attempt to deal with the serious problem of school failure School engagement builds on the anatomy of the students involvement in school and describes their feelings behaviors and thoughts about their school experiences So engagement is an important component of students school experience with a close relationship to achievement and school failure Children who self set academic goals attend school regularly and on time behave well in class complete their homework and study at home are likely to interact adequately with the school social and physical environments and perform well in school In contrast children who miss school are more likely to display disruptive behaviors in class miss homework frequently exhibit violent behaviors on the playground fail subjects be retained and if the behaviors persist quit school Moreover engagement should also be considered as an important school outcome eliciting more or less supportive reactions from educators For example children who display school engaged behaviors are likely to receive motivational and instructional support from their teachers The opposite may also be true But what makes student engage more or less The relevant literature indicates that personal variables e g sensory motor neurodevelopmental cognitive motivational emotional behavior problems learning difficulties addictions social and or cultural variables e g negative family conditions child abuse cultural deprivation ethnic conditions immigration or school variables e g coexistence at school bullying cyberbullying may concurrently hinder engagement preventing the student from acquiring the learnings in the same conditions as the rest of the classmates
