The Unappropriated People:

The Unappropriated People Jerome S. Handler, 2009 Remains the only treatment of the free people of colour of Barbados from the earliest periods of the slave society to emancipation in 1834 and provides the most detailed discussion of the manumission process for any British West Indian society Allowed certain rights and privileges not extended to slaves but denied others reserved for whites the social status of the free people was ambiguous Handler shows how the freedmen s struggle for civil rights was a collective effort to maximize their free status and to avoid a position of permanent intermediacy between white and enslaved White Creole Culture, Politics and Identity During the Age of Abolition David

Lambert, 2005-07-21 This book explores the articulation of white creole identity in Barbados during the age of abolitionism

Historicising Gender and Sexuality Kevin P. Murphy, Jennifer M. Spear, 2011-10-03 Historicising Gender and Sexuality features a diverse collection of essays that shed new light on the historical intersections between gender and sexuality across time and space Demonstrates both the particularities of specific formulations of gender and sexuality and the nature of the relationship between the categories themselves Presents evidence that careful and contextualised analysis of the shifting relationship of gender and sexuality illuminates broader historical processes Dispossessed Lives Marisa J.

Fuentes, 2016-05-26 In the eighteenth century Bridgetown Barbados was heavily populated by both enslaved and free women Marisa J Fuentes creates a portrait of urban Caribbean slavery in this colonial town from the perspective of these women whose stories appear only briefly in historical records Fuentes takes us through the streets of Bridgetown with an enslaved runaway inside a brothel run by a freed woman of color in the midst of a white urban household in sexual chaos to the gallows where enslaved people were executed and within violent scenes of enslaved women s punishments In the process Fuentes interrogates the archive and its historical production to expose the ongoing effects of white colonial power that constrain what can be known about these women Combining fragmentary sources with interdisciplinary methodologies that include black feminist theory and critical studies of history and slavery Dispossessed Lives demonstrates how the construction of the archive marked enslaved women s bodies in life and in death By vividly recounting enslaved life through the experiences of individual women and illuminating their conditions of confinement through the legal sexual and representational power wielded by slave owners colonial authorities and the archive Fuentes challenges the way we write histories of vulnerable and often invisible subjects Counterhegemony in the Colony and Postcolony J. Chalcraft, Y.

Noorani, 2007-09-28 This volume offers an unusual interdisciplinary collaboration of scholars working on the major regions of the global South The authors probe important episodes of resistance in the colony and postcolony for the light they shed on the vexed notion of counterhegemony enriching our notion of resistance and pointing to new directions for research The Politics of Reproduction Katherine Paugh, 2017-04-21 Many British politicians planters and doctors attempted to exploit the fertility of Afro Caribbean women s bodies in order to ensure the economic success of the British Empire during the age of abolition Abolitionist reformers hoped that a homegrown labor force would end the need for the Atlantic slave trade By establishing the ubiquity of visions of fertility and subsequent economic growth during this time The Politics of Reproduction sheds fresh light on the oft debated question of whether abolitionism was understood by contemporaries as economically beneficial to the plantation colonies At the same time Katherine Paugh makes novel assertions about the importance of Britain s Caribbean colonies in the emergence of population as a political problem The need to manipulate the labor market on Caribbean plantations led to the creation of new governmental strategies for managing sex and childbearing such as centralized nurseries discouragement of extended breastfeeding and financial incentives for childbearing that have become commonplace in our modern world While assessing the politics of reproduction in the British Empire and its Caribbean colonies in relationship to major political events such as the Haitian Revolution the study also focuses in on the island of Barbados The remarkable story of an enslaved midwife and her family illustrates how plantation management policies designed to promote fertility affected Afro Caribbean women during the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries The Politics of Reproduction draws on a wide variety of sources including debates in the British Parliament and the Barbados House of Assembly the records of Barbadian plantations tracts about plantation management published by doctors and plantation owners and missionary records related to the island of Barbados The People's Standard History of the United States Edward Sylvester Ellis,1898 The Latter-day Saints' Millennial Star ,1873 Parliamentary Papers Great Britain.
