Working Together Learning Together:

Working Together, Learning Together Sofie Sergeant, 2021-04-26 Working Together Learning Together WTLT is the name of the nationwide inclusive research project in the Netherlands we conducted from 2016 to 2020. Within this research project the PhD research work of Sofie Sergeant involved an inclusive and action orientated reflective practice of developing training for other inclusive research teams. The PhD manuscript is built up upon a collection of five papers. Two research questions are guiding: What are the catalysing ingredients and conditions for organising inclusive research in order to overcome attitudinal barriers, barriers in the social process, material barriers and within person barriers? Based upon these ingredients and conditions, what kind of training and coaching is needed? The following PhD research work identifies and explores four conditions for inclusive research: Safe research spaces and sense of belonging, Room for collaborative learning and competence building, Multi sensory communication and research methods, Time for reflection on power ownership, vulnerability, prejudice, stigma and the risk of tokenism. The developed training is referred to as the CABRIO training, a coaching and training program for transdisciplinary teams consisting of researchers with academic background, professionals from diverse disciplines and research team members with disability experience. Working Together - Learning Together Department of Health, Strengthening the Performance of Community Health Workers in Primary Health Care World Health Organization, WHO Study Group on Community Health Workers, 1989. This document describes a study that investigated the reasons for the frequent failure of national health systems based on primary health care to make effective use of community health workers. The report assesses different national experiences in order to pinpoint weaknesses, trace key mistakes and define corrective actions. The report opens with a brief historical overview of problems that have arisen in the use of community health workers and reasons for these problems. Noting that governments frequently fail to decide what community health workers are expected to achieve, the second section proposes an explicit definition of the place, role and functions of community health workers within the context of a national health system. The report then identifies and explores eight weaknesses ranging from policy and organizational errors that have built failure into the system to problems of poor selection, insufficient training, inadequate motivation and lack of reward. Strategies to overcome each problem are proposed. Specific recommendations drawn from national experiences are also included. The final sections condense the contents into a series of conclusions and recommendations intended to guide the reshaping of national programs. Eight references and a 59 item reading list conclude the document. KC Families, Schools, Communities Learning Together, 1999 Working Together Regina G. Burch, Creative Teaching Press, 2002.
