

The background of the cover is a photograph of ancient stone ruins. In the foreground, several tall, cylindrical columns stand on a raised platform. The columns are weathered and show signs of age. In the background, there are more ruins, including a low wall and some scattered stones. The sky is a clear, pale blue. The overall scene is bathed in warm, golden light, suggesting a sunset or sunrise.

World architecture, 1977 World Architecture, 1996 Compelling Form J. Donald Ragsdale, 2011-08-08 Compelling Form Architecture as Visual Persuasion is an assessment of the visual persuasiveness of buildings It demonstrates that architecture is as capable of social influence as speeches or advertisements are and that an awareness of this influence provides an insight into buildings cultural roles The book considers a diverse array of structures ranging from museums to performance halls to universities to cathedrals to governmental buildings to palaces and to skyscrapers Compelling Form is an important extension of theories of persuasion and visual communication to architecture and engineering The book bases its assessments on the elements of visual literacy and then on the elements of architectural design to demonstrate that buildings monuments and even such means of commerce as bridges affect the viewer in such a way as to have social impact
