Teaching Of Ecology:

Learning from the Land Brian "Fox" Ellis, 2011-11-04 This all new set of original science tales for children utilizes the power of storytelling to explore ecology's big ideas providing extensive accompanying teacher support for maximum impact Former teacher and an acclaimed author Brian Fox Ellis is a master at using creative storytelling to open up the natural world to students With this new edition of his highly praised Learning from the Land Teaching Ecology through Stories and Activities Ellis gives educators 12 captivating science based stories as well as the supporting material they need to use those stories at a variety of learning levels This latest edition immerses students in both the process and the excitement of science Ellis's original stories explore everything from the Big Bang theory to plate tectonics from the water cycle to the food web from forest ecology to animal intelligence The accompanying lesson plans all based on national standards include tips for discussions writing activities mapmaking storytelling scientific observations and other activities everything teachers need to break through the walls of the classroom and immerse their students in the interworkings of the world outside Teaching of Ecology (Bess 7) Lambert, 1975-01-01

The Learning Garden Veronica Gaylie, 2009 This book tells the story of building a campus learning garden over a series of cohorts of student teachers and environmental education students The project began with high ideals no funding and a strong desire to do something about the environment the result was a transformation in attitude toward nature community and toward the learning process itself Examining the process through three key metaphors garden as environment garden as community garden as transformation this book provides a bridge between theory and practice for ecology centered teaching and learning

Environmental Education and Advocacy Edward A. Johnson, Michael J. Mappin, 2005-03-03 Environmental education has often blurred the distinction between ecological science and environmental advocacy Growing public awareness of environmental problems and desire for action may be contributing to this blurring There is a need to clarify the distinction between the role of ecological science and the role of social and political values for the environment within environmental education This book addresses this need by examining the changing perspectives of ecology in education and the changing perspectives of education in environmental education Guidelines are provided for assessing the science and education perspectives within environmental education along with suggested frameworks for development of programs and resources that integrate current science education and action This book will be of interest to environmental educators ecologists interested in environmental education and curriculum and resource developers

The Teaching of Ecology in a Novel and Relevant Wilderness Setting and Its Effects on the Ecological Thinking, Feeling, and Perceiving of Elementary School Youth Gary L. Hall, 1980

The Ecology of the School John Eggleston, 2012 Within a single educational system that of England and Wales the nature of schooling available to a child can be dramatically different Even between residential areas the differences in educational climate can be striking Apart from differences in the organization of schools and the availability of buildings teachers and resources there are also significant ideological variations between local education authorities This book considers the evidence of such differences some of the environmental factors political social and economic that may account for their distribution and the consequences that appear to spring from them Teaching in the Sciences Acram Taji,2005-02-07 Gain a clear understanding of what effective teachers do and how successful students learn Over the past 20 years a greater concentration on research aimed at both teaching and learning has revealed that chalk and talk teaching copying notes and cookbook practical lessons offer little challenge to students Teaching in the Sciences Learner Centered Approaches steers the learning process away from traditional modes of instruction to a more student centered activity based curriculum that makes science relevant engaging and interesting This innovative book helps educators bring out the best in their students and themselves by identifying and meeting students needs and providing environments that encourage active strategic learning Helpful tables and figures make complex information easy to access and understand Rather than focusing on teaching methods that merely deal in the content of life science Teaching in the Sciences Learner Centered Approaches promotes a deep learning designed to develop critical and skilled learners This collection of frank and thoughtful empirically based papers places greater emphasis on learning environments and social interaction patterns assessment processes and perceptions of students and teachers in a range of learning and teaching settings in the life sciences The book presents strategies for mentoring and assessing students assessments of learning outcomes innovative approaches to curriculum design constructivist approaches to teaching science how to use technology to support learning and practical examples of learner centered teaching that mark important steps on a journey to transform the learning process Teaching in the Sciences Learner Centered Approaches examines using broadband videoconferencing for distance learning in tertiary science assessing for learning in the crucial first year of university studies using Information and Communication Technology ICT in molecular science applying ICT to provide student feedback teaching biostatistics in the environmental life sciences developing metacognition and problem solving skills in students the evolution of metAHEAD an online resource that supports strategy development and self monitoring in problem solving the development of a problem based learning approach PBL for students in environmental science and natural resource management and much more While largely centered on the context of undergraduate science instruction Teaching in the Sciences Learner Centered Approaches is filled with valuable lessons for all educators working with students in the pursuit of powerful effective and lasting learning Application of Big Data, Blockchain, and Internet of Things for Education Informatization Mian Ahmad Jan,Fazlullah Khan,2021-10-12 This two volume set constitutes the refereed proceedings of the First International Conference International Conference on Application of Big Data Blockchain and Internet of Things for Education Informatization The conference was held in August 2021 and due to COVID 19 pandemic virtually The 99 revised full papers and 45 short papers have been selected from 503 submissions The papers describe research fields such as big data and information education The aim of the conference is to
