The True Cross:

A Heritage of Holy Wood: The Legend of the True Cross in Text and Image Barbara Baert,2004-07-01 In the fourth century the idea arose that the Cross on which Christ was crucified had been found by Helena mother of Emperor Constantine Thus began a legend that would grow and flourish throughout the Middle Ages and cause the diffusion of countless splinters of holy wood And where there is wood there was once a tree Could it be that the Cross was made from that most noble species the Tree of Life So gathering characters along the way the legend evolved into a tale that stretches from the Creation to the End of Time A Heritage of Holy Wood is the first reconstruction of the iconographic and literary tradition of the Legend of the True Cross Its broad scope encompasses relic cults pilgrimages travellers tales and the Tree of Life and involves Church Fathers crusader kings Teutonic Knights and mendicant orders all of which influenced the legend s depiction from its earliest representation in manuscripts reliquaries and altarpieces to the great monumental cycles of the high Middle Ages If the holy wood was the medium of medieval memory A Heritage of Holy Wood reveals the growth rings of fifteen centuries of imagery

The true Cross [a poem]. George John Whyte- Melville,1873 Crusader Art in the Holy Land, From the Third Crusade to the Fall of Acre Jaroslav Folda,2005-09-05 Publisher Description The Quest for the True Cross Carsten Peter Thiede,Matthew D'Ancona,2000 Following the success of The Jesus Papyrus a Sunday Times bestseller

in which the authors authenticated three fragments of St Matthew's Gospel kept in an Oxford college from the eyewitness period Carsten Thiede and Matthew D'Ancona turn their attention to a fragment of inscribed wood stored in a church in Rome for many hundreds of years which they believe is part of the title board or Titulus from the cross on which Jesus died Their claim flies in the face of the view held by many modern historians who dismiss the very notion of any part of the Cross's survival as superstitious and fanciful However Thiede and D'Ancona have amassed evidence that this fragment is not only genuine but that it was brought to Rome by Queen Helena mother of Constantine the Great who according to legend found the cross in Jerusalem in AD326 on the site where the Church of the Holy Sepulchre now stands Thiede and D'Ancona base their claim on the writing that survives on the Roman Titulus Deciphering this wording is where Thiede's specialism as a papyrologist comes in He has also been involved in archaeological investigations at the site of the Church and will be the first to reveal the find
