The Uncanny:

The Uncanny Nicholas Royle, 2003 This is the first book length study of the uncanny an important concept for contemporary thinking and debate across a range of disciplines and discourses including literature film architecture cultural studies philosophy psychoanalysis and queer theory Much of this importance can be traced back to Freud s essay of 1919 The uncanny where he was perhaps the first to foreground the distinctive nature of the uncanny as a feeling of something not simply weird or mysterious but more specifically as something strangely familiar As a concept and a feeling however the uncanny has a complex history going back to at least the Enlightenment Nicholas Royle offers a detailed historical account of the emergence of the uncanny together with a series of close readings of different aspects of the topic Following a major introductory historical and critical overview there are chapters on the death drive d j vu silence solitude and darkness the fear of being buried alive doubles ghosts cannibalism telepathy and madness as well as more applied readings concerned for example with teaching politics film and religion This is a major critical study that will be welcomed by students and academics but will also be of interest to the general reader The Uncanny Sigmund Freud, 2003-07-31 An extraordinary collection of thematically linked essays including THE UNCANNY SCREEN MEMORIES and FAMILY ROMANCES Leonardo da Vinci fascinated Freud primarily because he was keen to know why his personality was so incomprehensible to his contemporaries In this probing biographical essay he deconstructs both da Vinci s character and the nature of his genius As ever many of his exploratory avenues lead to the subject s sexuality why did da Vinci depict the naked human body the way he did What of his tendency to surround himself with handsome young boys that he took on as his pupils Intriguing thought provoking and often contentious this volume contains some of Freud s best writing The Uncanny Andrew Klavan, 1998-09-08 Richard Storm is passionate hot blooded and running out of time Sophia Endering is cool beautiful and haunted by a centuries old mystery Now the Hollywood filmmaker and the troubled young woman have come together in a race against the unbelievable the unthinkable and The Uncanny Richard Storm reached the top of his profession producing horror films based on classic English ghost stories Now with his life beginning to unravel Richard is searching for something to believe in Fleeing Hollywood for London he embarks on a desperate quest to find evidence that the great old stories bear some truth that the human spirit lives on after death What he finds is Sophia a woman caught in a nightmare more chilling than any of his film horrors Propelled by a furious love haunted by a terror he can barely confess to himself Storm pursues Sophia through the labyrinth of her family s madness and their involvement in Nazi art thefts down a trail formed by the classic ghost stories themselves into the very heart of the uncanny The Ages of the X-Men Joseph J. Darowski, 2014-06-24 The X Men comic book franchise is one of the most popular of all time and one of the most intriguing for critical analysis With storylines that often contain overt social messages within its mutant metaphor X Men is often credited with having more depth than the average superhero property In this collection each essay examines a specific era of the X Men franchise in relationship to contemporary social concerns The essays are arranged chronologically from an analysis of popular science at the time of the first X Men comic book in 1963 to an interpretation of a storyline in light of rhetoric of President Obama s first presidential campaign Topics ranging from Communism to celebrity culture to school violence are addressed by scholars who provide new insights into one of America s most significant popular culture products
