What? Me? A Racist? European Commission. Directorate General X for Information, Communication, Culture, Audiovisual, 1998

I'm Down Mishna Wolff, 2009-05-26 Mishna Wolff grew up in a poor black neighborhood with her single father a white man who truly believed he was black He strutted around with a short perm a Cosby esqe sweater gold chains and a Kangol telling jokes like Redd Fox and giving advice like Jesse Jackson You couldn t tell my father he was white Believe me I tried writes Wolff And so from early childhood on her father began his crusade to make his white daughter Down Unfortunately Mishna didn t quite fit in with the neighborhood kids she couldn t dance she couldn t sing she couldn t double dutch and she was the worst player on her all black basketball team She was shy uncool and painfully white And yet when she was suddenly sent to a rich white school she found she was too black to fit in with her white classmates I m Down is a hip hysterical and at the same time beautiful memoir that will have you howling with laughter recommending it to friends and questioning what it means to be black and white in America

Raising Mixed Race Sharon Chang, 2015-12-11 Research continues to uncover early childhood as a crucial time when we set the stage for who we will become In the last decade we have also seen a sudden massive shift in America s racial makeup with the majority of the current under 5 age population being children of color Asian and multiracial are the fastest growing self identified groups in the United States More than 2 million people indicated being mixed race Asian on the 2010 Census Yet young multiracial Asian children are vastly underrepresented in the literature on racial identity Why And what are these children learning about themselves in an era that tries to be ahistorical believes the race problem has been solved and that mixed race people are proof of it This book is drawn from extensive research and interviews with sixty eight parents of multiracial children It is the first to examine the complex task of supporting our youngest around being two or more races and Asian while living amongst post racial ideologies

Speaking of Race Patricia Roberts-Miller, 2021-01-12 Readers of all levels and backgrounds will appreciate the clarity with which Roberts Miller approaches a topic so often driven by powerful emotion Choice It s easy to say that racism is wrong But it s surprisingly hard to agree on what it is Does a tired stereotype in your favorite movie make it racist Does watching it anyway mean you re racist Even among like minded friends such discussions can quickly escalate to hurt feelings all around and when they do we lose valuable opportunities to fight racism Patricia Roberts Miller is a scholar of rhetoric the art of understanding misunderstandings In Speaking of Race she explains why the subject is a third rail and how we can do better We can acknowledge that in a racist society racism is not the sole provenance of bad people We can focus on the harm it causes rather than the intent of offenders And when someone illuminates our own racist blind spots we can take it not as a criticism but as a kindness and an opportunity to learn and to become less racist ourselves On Becoming a Racially Sensitive Therapist Kenneth V. Hardy,2025-05-06 Transform your clinical practice by transforming yourself Claims of color blindness and the insistence that all clients are essentially the same have contributed to a dearth of knowledge and understanding regarding the delivery of racially sensitive treatment For many clinicians addressing issues of race in therapy mirrors the same discomfort that permeates most of our efforts to discuss it outside of treatment Yet providing racially sensitive therapy as well as possessing the clinical acumen to address complex issues of race and culture is vital to competent contemporary practice The volume is organized into three fundamental sections with contributions from mental health experts who have done the work to unlearn systemic biases about race and therapy The first section introduces the concept of a racially sensitive therapist and what it means to become one The second section focuses on cultural and racial storytelling to help uncover unknown parts of oneself and emphasizes racial self examination self interrogation and personal transformation And the final section transports the reader from seeing and being to doing with racially informed intervention methods A monumental undertaking this book is an essential step for healers and caregivers to reframe the therapy process for all clients Contributors include Lane Arye Vanessa Bing Toby Bobes Bonnie Cushing Elana Katz Niketa Kumar Sharon RC Lee Gloria Lopez Henriquez Yasmeen Rubidge and Virginia Seewaltd
