Honeywell's Working Parents Task Force Honeywell Inc. Working Parents Task Force, 1981 This publication provides a summary of the Honeywell Working Parent Task Force s recommendations on how to solve problems experienced by working parents The Task Force consisted of three committees the Employment Practices Committee EPC the Parent Education Committee PEC and the Child Care Facilities Committee CCFC After examining a variety of employment practices which affect working parents the EPC found that the main problem experienced by these parents when managing work and family responsibilities was inflexible work schedules Following an exploration of several alternative work options the committee began a thorough evaluation of flextime. As a result, a working definition of flextime was developed. Current Honeywell policy and practices regarding flextime were identified, and local and national employers were surveyed about their flextime practices. The EPC concluded that Honeywell should adopt a flextime policy which endorses flextime wherever possible. The work of the PEC was based on the recognition of the challenges faced by working parents as they try to manage both work and family responsibilities. The PEC focused on the kinds of information needed by working parents and how best to present this information. The two major vehicles recommended for providing information to parents were working parents seminars and distribution of printed materials. Finally, the CCFC, after reviewing studies related to child care facilities in Minneapolis and conducting interviews with other large employers and professionals who deliver services to families and children, identified the 10 most serious problems faced by working parents and suggested several recommendations for overcoming these problems. A draft of the proposed flextime policy as well as information about Minneapolis's Computerized Child Care Information Network and the CCFC's recommendation to develop on-site child care facilities are included in the appendices.

Author MP Taking Parenting Public Sylvia Ann Hewlett, Nancy Rankin, Cornel West, 2002. Taking Parenting Public makes a compelling case that parenting has become dangerously undervalued in America today. It calls for a new investment both personal and public into the work of raising children and argues that we are all stockholders in the next generation. With a foreword by Sylvia Ann Hewlett and Cornel West, Taking Parenting Public crosses boundaries to bring together thinkers from diverse fields spanning the political spectrum. It features contributions from distinguished experts in economics, political science, public policy, child development, public health, history, and the media. While recent books have focused on working mothers or absent fathers, Taking Parenting Public is the first volume to take a comprehensive look at the common struggles of parents. These essays go beyond the usual chest-beating about busy parents torn between work and family demands to suggest bold solutions. Instead of the typical call for parent replacement, more child care, more after-school programs, and more mentors, the contributors offer fresh strategies for parent replenishment, ways to put mothers and fathers back into the lives of their children, not only as economic providers but also as emotional and moral providers. Global Perspectives on Social Work in Transition Norby Paul, Joyashree Dey, 2025-08-11. Mit Perspektiven aus 8 Ländern behandelt dieses Buch ein vielfältiges Spektrum von Themen, die für die aktuelle internationale Sozialarbeit von Bedeutung sind. Die Autorinnen veranschaulichen und diskutieren Praktiken der Sozialarbeit und ihre Anpassungsfähigkeit in der Zeit nach der Covid-19-Pandemie in ihren jeweiligen Kontexten. Forschungsbasierte Überlegungen sowohl aus der Wissenschaft als auch aus der Praxis werden miteinander verwoben, um dort Orientierung zu bieten, wo traditionelle Formen der Sozialen Arbeit in Frage gestellt werden. Ziel des Buches ist es, den Leserinnen und Lesern die Möglichkeit zu geben, sich mit den Implikationen der heutigen Herausforderungen auseinanderzusetzen und zukunftsorientiert zu handeln. Hearings on a Bill to Make Permanent Certain Child Nutrition Programs United States.
