As a good result, it forces improvements in almost all aspects of your life. Minimalism is finding freedom in your life to enjoy it. The objects you keep in your life are brought into it or held in your life with much more thought. Your things all have a purpose or reason. There are no strict rules to minimalism; it is what you make it, and it goes how far you want it to go. The point is to have fewer physical things weighing you down so you can make better decisions for your life overall. The concept that fewer items in your house will alter your mind and allow you to think clearer and remember better is hard to get across unless you've felt it personally. Minimalism focuses on simplifying your life to grant you the freedom to live it to the fullest, allowing you to focus on the things you want to do versus the things you have to do. Take on an additional project at work to make more money, take that cooking class you have always thought about, or maybe just be able to relax in the comfort of your home and read a book. Less > More Joseph Neil,2014-05-14. Do you find yourself often unhappy or unorganized? Do you collect material possessions? Do you wish there was an easy way to declutter your life?
