Poetic Castles in Spain Diego Saglia, 2021-12-28 British culture of the Romantic period is distinguished by a protracted and varied interest in things Spanish The climax in the publication of fictional and especially poetical narratives on Spain corresponds with the intense phase of Anglo Iberian exchanges delimited by the Peninsular War 1808-14 on the one hand and the Spanish experiment of a constitutional monarchy that lasted from 1820 until 1823 on the other Although current scholarship has uncovered and reconstructed several foreign maps of British Romanticism from the Orient to the South Seas exotic European geographies have not received much attention Spain in particular is one of the most neglected of these imaginary Romantic geographies even if between the 1800s and the 1820s and beyond it was a site of wars and invasions the object of foreign economic interests relating to its American colonies and a geopolitical area crucial to the European balance designed by the post Waterloo Vienna settlement This study considers the various ways in which Spain figured in Romantic narrative verse recovering the discursive materials employed in fictional representation and assessing the relevance of this activity in the context of the dominant themes and preoccupations in contemporary British culture The texts examined here include medievalizing and chivalric fictions Orientalist adventures set in Islamic Granada and modern day tales of the anti Napoleonic campaign in the Peninsula Recovering some of the outstanding works and issues elaborated by British Romanticism through the cultural geography of Spain this study shows that the Iberian country was an inexhaustible source of imaginative materials for British culture at a time when its imperial boundaries were expanding and its geopolitical influence was increasing in Europe and overseas

Passing and the Fictions of Identity Elaine K. Ginsberg, 1996-04-29 Passing refers to the process whereby a person of one race gender nationality or sexual orientation adopts the guise of another Historically this has often involved black slaves passing as white in order to gain their freedom More generally it has served as a way for women and people of color to access male or white privilege In their examination of this practice of crossing boundaries the contributors to this volume offer a unique perspective for studying the construction and meaning of personal and cultural identities These essays consider a wide range of texts and moments from colonial times to the present that raise significant questions about the political motivations inherent in the origins and maintenance of identity categories and boundaries Through discussions of such literary works as Running a Thousand Miles for Freedom The Autobiography of an Ex Coloured Man Uncle Tom's Cabin The Hidden Hand Black Like Me and Giovanni's Room the authors examine issues of power and privilege and ways in which passing might challenge the often rigid structures of identity politics Their interrogation of the semiotics of behavior dress language and the body itself contributes significantly to an understanding of national racial gender and sexual identity in American literature and culture Contextualizing and building on the theoretical work of such scholars as Judith Butler Diana Fuss Marjorie Garber and Henry Louis Gates Jr Passing and the Fictions of Identity will be of value to students and scholars working in the areas of race gender and identity theory as well as U S history and literature Contributors Martha Cutter Katharine Nicholson Ings Samira Kawash Adrian Piper Valerie Rohy Marion Rust Julia Stern Gayle Wald Ellen M Weinauer Elizabeth Young
