The Discourse Of Enclosure:

The Discourse of Enclosure Shari Horner, 2001-05-24 2001 CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title Exploring Old English texts ranging from Beowulf to Ifric s Lives of Saints this book examines ways that women s monastic material and devotional practices in Anglo Saxon England shaped literary representations of women and femininity Horner argues that these representations derive from a discourse of female monastic enclosure based on the increasingly strict rules of cloistered confinement that regulated the female religious body in the early Middle Ages She shows that the female subjects of much Old English literature are enclosed by many layers literal and figurative textual material discursive spatial all of which image and reinforce the powerful institutions imposed by the Church on the female body Though it has long been recognized that medieval religious women were enclosed and that virginity was highly valued this book is the first to consider the interrelationships of these two positions that is how the material practices of female monasticism inform the textual operations of Old English literature

Enclosure Gary Fields, 2017-09-05 Enclosure marshals bold new arguments about the nature of the conflict in Israel Palestine Gary Fields examines the dispossession of Palestinians from their land and Israel s rationale for seizing control of Palestinian land in the contexts of a broad historical analysis of power and space and of an enduring discourse about land improvement Focusing on the English enclosures which eradicated access to common land across the English countryside Amerindian dispossession in colonial America and Palestinian land loss Fields shows how exclusionary landscapes have emerged across time and geography Evidence that the same moral legal and cartographic arguments were used by enclosers of land in very different historical environments challenges Israel s current claim that it is uniquely beleaguered This comparative framework also helps readers in the United States and the United Kingdom understand the Israeli Palestinian conflict in the context of their own histories

Enclosure Acts Richard Burt, John Archer, 2019-06-07 Enclosure the conversion of peasants commonly held lands to privately owned pasture has long been considered a critical stage in the transition from feudalism to capitalism This book is the first however to treat in detail the literary and cultural implications of enclosure in early modern England Bringing together the work of both senior and younger scholars who represent a wide range of critical orientations Enclosure Acts focuses not only on the historical fact of land enclosure but also on the symbolic containment of sexuality in Elizabethan and Jacobean literary works The first type of enclosure frequently has been treated by materialists and new historicists feminists and theorists concerned with issues of gender have tended to concentrate on the second The fourteen essays collected here explore the relationships between these two ways of perceiving enclosure in the context of cultural studies Individual chapters examine the creation of territorial and social boundaries as well as the consequences of enclosure acts

Militarizing the Environment

Robert P. Marzec, 2015-12-21 As the seriousness of climate change becomes more and more obvious military institutions are responding by taking a prominent role in the governing of environmental concerns engaging in climate change war games and preparing for the effects of climate change from conflicts due to loss of food water and energy to the mass migration of millions of people displaced by rising sea levels This combat oriented stance stems from a self destructive pattern of thought that Robert P Marzec names environmentalism an attitude that has been affecting human environmental relations since the seventeenth century Militarizing the Environment traces the rise of this influential mindset in America and other nations that threatens to supplant ideas of sustainability with demands for adaptation In this extensive historical study of scientific military political and economic formations across five centuries Marzec reveals how environmentalism has been instrumental in the development of today's security society informing the creation of the military industrial complex during World War II and the National Security Act that established the CIA during the Cold War Now embedded in contemporary Western thought environmentalism has even infiltrated scientific thinking transforming Darwinian insights into a quasi theology that makes security the biological basis of existence Marzec exposes the self destructive nature of this increasingly accepted worldview and offers alternatives that counter the blind alleys of national and global security Parergon, 2003 The Enclosure and Redistribution of Our Land William Henry Ricketts Curtler, 1920 The English Peasantry and the Enclosure of Common Fields Gilbert Slater, 1907 The Politics of Recognition in the Age of Digital Spaces Benjamin JJ Carpenter, 2023-09-15 This book provides a philosophical analysis of the notion of selfhood that underlies identity politics It offers a unique theory of the self that combines previous scholarly work on recognition and the phenomenology of space The politics of identity occupy the centre of a contested terrain Marginalised and oppressed peoples continue to seek the transformation of our shared social world and our political institutions required for their lives to be liveable Public criticism and academic treatments of identity politics often take a disparaging view that treats it as subordinate to more general political questions about justice and the organisation of society and its institutions This book argues that these polemics ignore the numerous ways in which all politics is concerned with matters of selfhood and identity Through a rereading of Hegel's account of recognition as an ongoing and dynamic process that constitutes the self it presents selves and the categories of identity that qualify these selves as fundamentally conditioned by the environments in which they appear before themselves and others It also argues that we do the work of identity in public spaces particularly digital spaces and that these spaces shape what identities we can assume and what those identities mean Contemporary social media technologies facilitate the production of particular forms of selfhood through the combined logics of the interface the profile and the post The Politics of Recognition in the Age of Digital Spaces will be of interest to scholars and advanced students working in a wide range of disciplines including political philosophy phenomenology philosophy of technology sociology political theory and critical theory It will also appeal to anyone with an interest in contemporary identity politics whether as a matter of
