Greene Richard Leighton Greene,1935 What Kind of a Thing Is a Middle English Lyric? Cristina Maria Cervone,Nicholas Watson,2022-08-30 What Kind of a Thing Is a Middle English Lyric considers issues pertaining to a corpus of several hundred short poems written in Middle English between the twelfth and early fifteenth centuries The chapters draw on perspectives from varied disciplines including literary criticism musicology art history and cognitive science Since the early 1900s the poems have been categorized as lyrics the term now used for most kinds of short poetry yet neither the difficulties nor the promise of this treatment have received enough attention In one way the book argues considering these poems to be lyrics obscures much of what is interesting about them Since the nineteenth century lyrics have been thought of as subjective and best read without reference to cultural context yet nonetheless they are taken to form a distinct literary tradition Since Middle English short poems are often communal and usually spoken sung and or danced this lyric template is not a good fit In another way however the very differences between these poems and the later ones on which current debates about the lyric still focus suggest they have much to offer those debates and vice versa As its title suggests this book thus goes back to the basics asking fundamental questions about what these poems are how they function formally and culturally how they are and are not related to other bodies of short poetry and how they might illuminate and be illuminated by contemporary lyric scholarship Eleven chapters by medievalists and two responses by modernists all in careful conversation with one another reflect on these questions and suggest very different answers The editors introduction synthesizes these answers by suggesting that these poems can most usefully be read as a kind of play in several senses of that word The book ends with eight new Middle English lyrics by seven contemporary poets A Dictionary of the Old English Language, Compiled from Writings of the XII. XIII. XIV. and XV. Centuries, by Francis Henry Stratmann Franz Heinrich Stratmann,Francis Henry Stratmann,1878 Female-Voice Song and Women's Musical Agency in the Middle Ages ,2022-08-22 This collection of seventeen essays newly identifies contributions to musical culture made by women before 1500 across Europe You will learn about repertoire from such diverse locations as Iceland Spain and Italy and encounter examples of musicianship from the gender fluid professional musicians at the Islamicate courts of Syria to the nuns of Barking Abbey in England The book shows that women drove musical patronage dissemination composition and performance including within secular and ecclesiastical contexts and also reflects on the reception of medieval women s musical agency by both medieval poets and by modern
