Alcorn,2013-08-27 An intimate and revealing examination of today s motherhood overload crisis Winner of a Foreword IndieFab Book of the Year Award Katrina Alcorn was a 37 year old mother with a happy marriage and a thriving career when one day on the way to Target to buy diapers she had a breakdown Her carefully built career shuddered to a halt and her journey through depression anxiety and insomnia followed by medication meditation and therapy began Alcorn wondered how a woman like herself with a loving husband a supportive boss three healthy kids and a good income was unable to manage the demands of having a career and a family Over time she realized that she wasn t alone many women were struggling to do it all and feeling as if they were somehow failing as a result Mothers are the breadwinners in two thirds of American families yet the American workplace is uniquely hostile to the needs of parents Weaving in surprising research about the dysfunction between the careers and home lives of working mothers as well as the consequences to women s health Alcorn tells a deeply personal story about having it all failing miserably and what comes after Ultimately she offers readers a vision for a healthier happier and more productive way to live and work The Racial Glass Ceiling Roy L. Brooks,2017-05-30 A compelling study of a subtle and insidious form of racial inequality in American law and culture Why does racial equality continue to elude African Americans even after the election of a black president Liberals blame white racism while conservatives blame black behavior Both define the race problem in socioeconomic terms mainly citing jobs education and policing Roy Brooks a distinguished legal scholar argues that the reality is more complex He defines the race problem African Americans face today as a three headed hydra involving socioeconomic judicial and cultural conditions Focusing on law and culture Brooks defines the problem largely as racial subordination the act of impeding racial progress in pursuit of nonracist interests Racial subordination is little understood and underacknowledged yet it produces devastating and even deadly racial consequences that affect both poor and socioeconomically successful African Americans Brooks addresses a serious problem in many ways more dangerous than overt racism and offers a well reasoned solution that draws upon the strongest virtues America has exhibited to the world

Pregnancy and Parenting after Thirty-Five Michele C. Moore, Caroline M. de Costa, 2006-04-13 More and more women are having babies after the age of thirty five and experiencing the joy of motherhood But mothers to be in this age group sometimes face unique medical emotional and social challenges Conception may be difficult and the risk of miscarriage during early pregnancy is higher as is the potential for complications such as hypertension and diabetes And having a child later in life can also be surprisingly disruptive to well established domestic routines and carefully cultivated careers Michele Moore and Caroline de Costa two physicians who have been down this road themselves offer reliable medical expertise and personal reassurance to women tackling these challenges Pregnancy and Parenting after Thirty Five covers a broad range of issues for mothers in mid life from the possibility of Cesarean section to the awkwardness of being the oldest mom at PTA meetings to the joy of holding your infant in your arms Incorporating the stories of real women who have gone through mid life pregnancy Moore and de Costa have created a valuable resource that will help other women do so realistically and with confidence One of the few books devoted to prospective mothers over thirty five this one also includes information on surrogacy adoption and the first few months of being a new mother
