the therapist's role Dr Minuchin presents the views and strategies of a master clinician in a clear and practical form. Transcripts of actual family sessions both with families meeting their problems fairly successfully and those seeking help are accompanied by a running interpretation of what is taking place. The book constructs a model of an effectively functioning family and defines the boundaries around its different subsystems whether parental spouse or sibling. It then explores the ways in which families adapt to stress from within and without as they seek to survive and grow. Combining vivid clinical examples, specific details of technique and mature perspectives on both effectively functioning families and those seeking therapy, this is an important text for all those interested in the theory and practice of family therapy. This book can be used on courses such as Family Therapy, Family Interventions, Systemic Practice and Systemic Counselling within departments of Psychology, Mental Health and Counselling and by undergraduate students on Social Work qualifying courses.

An Introduction to Marital Theory and Therapy Leroy G. Baruth, Charles H. Huber, 1984

Family Therapy Herbert Goldenberg, Irene Goldenberg, 2011-12-01

FAMILY THERAPY International Edition provides a balanced presentation of the major theoretical underpinnings and clinical practices in the field. By presenting an overview of traditional and evolving viewpoints, perspectives, values, intervention techniques and goals of family therapy, Herbert and Irene Goldenberg provide current, relevant, practice-oriented content, laying the foundation for students to become proficient family therapists. This edition reflects the Goldenbergs' commitment to providing students with not only traditional family therapy theoretical frameworks but also the field's evolving models of practice. It is the complete resource for assisting students in mastering the many facets of family therapy. For this edition, Michael White, founder of Narrative Therapy, has written a new foreword for the book.

Family Therapy Janice M. Rasheed, Mikal N. Rasheed, James A. Marley, 2010-07-29

This text offers a straightforward, comprehensive overview of both traditional and evolving theoretical models of family therapy and intervention techniques, as well as a discussion of clinical issues unique to family therapy practice. Aiming to prepare students to develop beginning proficiency in family therapy, the authors outline major family therapy models in detail, including a step-by-step description of concepts, theories, skills and techniques, as well as a history of each model and its conceptual and theoretical underpinnings. The text also provides extensive case illustrations of family interviews that identify the specific stages, clinical issues, concepts, theories and techniques associated with each model. This core text is designed for graduate-level courses such as Family Therapy, Marriage and Family Therapy, Marriage and Family Counseling, Family Systems Theory and Family Counseling in departments of social work, psychology, nursing education or human services.

An Introduction to Family Social Work Donald Collins, Cathleen Jordan, Heather Coleman, 1999

This text provides beginning students with the knowledge and skills necessary for family social work. Not a family therapy text, it is intended for students who will work with families but who will not necessarily undertake advanced training in family therapy. Chapters 1 and 2 present a philosophical perspective and provide an understanding of family functions. Chapters 3 and 4 treat family assessment and

Chapters 5 through 10 lead students through the actual process of working with families The concluding chapters discuss gender and culturally sensitive practice and cover special situations that family social workers may encounter in working with children and adults
