Ernst, 2004 Recipient of the 2004 Bashrahil Prize for Outstanding Cultural Achievement in the Humanities An introduction to Islam today the faith of more than a billion people set in the context of world history and of religious studies Carl Ernst brings together Islamic religious thought and lived experience to examine traditional spirituality and the contentious issues confronting Muslims today His approach is balanced both sympathetic and critical Besides providing a guide to the fundamental aspects of Islam its sacred sources ethical systems and spiritual practices the author encourages the reader to reflect on these topics This compact introduction appeals to all those who want to understand both the historical aspects of Islam as well as the place of Islam in the contemporary world Features A critical perspective on Western attitudes toward Islam A clarification of the contemporary importance of Islam both in Euro American and in Afro Asiatic countries and a context for understanding extremist movements like fundamentalism Access to the voice of Muslims through translations of texts into English An overview of the critical debates on such important contemporary issues as gender and veiling state politics and science and ethics The World's Work, 1919 A history of our time The New World of Islam Lothrop Stoddard, 2020-09-28 World Islam Andrew Rippin, 2008 Reflecting the diversity of Islam this collection focuses on the presence of Muslims in countries outside the traditionally conceived heartlands of the Islamic world The history of the arrival of Islam in such countries and the nature of the way in which Islam is practised in such places is the thematic focus of the materials selected for inclusion Today the community of Muslims around the globe looks to the Arab world and Iran as a source of identity and authority While this is driven as much by finances as by religious ideology it does create a sense of there being a central Islamic world and a diaspora which can be separated and considered This separation may also be considered a historical phenomenon the core Islamic world came into existence as a result of the early military expansion of the Arabs up to about 750CE after that point the spread of Islam occurred by different and more gradual means often influenced by trade especially Both of these ways of conceptualizing the region of interest results in a vast amount of territory in which to explore the special manifestations of Islam Materials selected for inclusion in this Major Work provide general information on Islam rather than being overly specific A number of aspects are considered the history of the introduction of Islam into the area the means by which Islam spread the attitude Muslims took to the surrounding culture the character of the Islam which resulted the sense of Muslim identity in the area and the issues which might have emerged as a result The gathered material is grouped geographically with an attempt to include as many individual countries as possible within each area while also paying attention to each of the above criteria An initial selection of articles on world Islam the process and means of the spread of Islam in general and some consideration of what it means to talk about the presence of Islam in the world and a survey of the general diversity of characteristics of Islam serves as an introductory section to the volumes Additional groupings are geographical and include South Asia South East Asia Australia and islands of the Pacific China countries of the former Soviet Union South Africa East Africa West Africa Europe North America Central and South America The World's History: Oceania, Eastern Asia, and the Indian Ocean Hans Ferdinand Helmolt, 1904 An English adaptation of Helmolt s Weltgeschichte with a rejection of sections which did not seem quite adequate from the point of view of its English readers Publisher s note The World's Living Religions Robert Ernest Hume, 1924 The Missionary Review of the World, 1904 International Index to Periodicals, 1929 An author and subject index to publications in fields of anthropology archaeology and classical studies economics folklore geography
