World City Network A Global Urban Analysis:

World City Network Peter J. Taylor, 2004 Peter Taylor's compelling insights challenge us to view cities as part of a global network divorced from the constraints of national or even regional boundaries World City Network Peter Taylor, Ben Derudder, 2015-08-17 With the advent of multinational corporations the traditional urban service function has gone global In order to provide services to globalizing corporate clients the offices of major financial and business service firms across the world have generated networks of work It is the myriad of flows between office towers in different metropolitan centres that has produced a world city network Taylor and Derudder's unique and illuminating book provides both an update and a substantial revision of the first edition that was published in 2004 It provides a comprehensive and systematic description and analysis of the world city network as the skeleton upon which contemporary globalization has been built Through an analysis of the intra company flows of 175 leading global service firms across 526 cities in 2012 this book assesses cities in terms of their overall network connectivity the regional configurations they form and their changing position in the period 2000-12 Results are used to reflect on cities and city state relations in the context of the global ecological and economic crisis Written by two of the foremost authorities on the subject this book provides a much needed mapping of the connecting relationships between world cities and will be a valuable resource for students of urban studies geography sociology and planning Global Urban Analysis Peter J Taylor, Pengfei Ni, Ben Derudder, Michael Hoyler, Jin Huang, Frank Witlox, 2012-06-25 Global Urban Analysis provides a unique insight into the contemporary world economy through a focus on cities It is based upon a large scale customised data collection on how leading businesses use cities across the world as headquarter locations for finance for professional and creative services for media These data involving up to 2000 firms and over 500 cities provide evidence for both how the leading cities sometimes called global cities are coming to dominate the world economy and how hundreds of other cities are faring in this brave new urban world Thus can the likes of London New York and Hong Kong be tracked as well as Manchester Cleveland and Guangzhou and even Plymouth Chattanooga and Xi'an Cities are assessed and ranked in terms of their importance for various functions such as for financial services legal services and advertising plus novel findings are reported for the geographical orientations of their connections This is truly a comprehensive survey of cities in globalization covering global world regional and national scales of analysis 4 key chapters outline the global structure of the world economy featuring the leading cities 9 regional chapters covering the whole world also feature the level of services provided by medium cities 22 chapters on selected countries and sub regions indicate global ness and local ness and feature an even wider range of cities Written in an easy to understand style this book is a must read for anybody interested in their own city in the world and how it relates to other cities Global Urban Analysis Peter James Taylor, 2011 First Published in 2010 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company International Social Science Journal, 2004 Another Global City Pierre-Yves Saunier, Shane Ewen, 2008-07-15 Explores

Regional Scientists' Tribute to Professor Ryszard Domański Ryszard Domański,2005 Korea Observer ,2003 The Political Economy of a City-state Revisited Linda Low,2006 The book gives an insight of how Singapore is government made in its growth and development It uses a political economy approach to analyse how a small open city state through market supporting public policies has managed to overcome many economic and socio political odds Jadavpur Journal of International Relations ,2017 Northwestern Journal of International Law & Business ,2007 The Socio/spatial Production of the Global Maria del Carmen Moreno Carranco,2008 Internet Research Annual ,2007 Bounding the Mekong Jim Glassman,2010-09-16 Transnational economic integration has been described by globalization boosters as a rising tide that will lift all boats an opportunity for all participants to achieve greater prosperity through a combination of political cooperation and capitalist economic competition The Asian Development Bank ADB has championed such rhetoric in promoting the integration of China Southeast Asia s formerly socialist states and Thailand into a regional project called the Greater Mekong Subregion GMS But while the GMS project is in fact hastening regional economic integration Jim Glassman shows that the approach belies the ADB s idealized description of win win outcomes The process of actually existing globalization in the GMS does provide varied opportunities for different actors but it is less a rising tide that lifts all boats than an uneven flood of transnational capitalist development whose outcomes are determined by intense class struggles market competition and regulatory battles Glassman makes the case for adopting a class based approach to analysis of GMS development regionalization and actually existing globalization First he analyzes the interests and actions of various Thai participants in GMS development then the roles of different Chinese actors in GMS integration He next provides two cases illustrating the serious limits of any notion that GMS integration is a relatively egalitarian process Laos participation in GMS development and the role of migrant Burmese workers in the production of the GMS He finds that Burmese migrant workers dam displaced Chinese and Laotian villagers and economically stressed Thai farmers and small businesses are relative losers compared to the powerful business interests that shape GMS integration from locations like Bangkok and Kunming as well as key sites outside the GMS like Beijing Singapore and Tokyo The final chapter blends geographical historical analysis with an assessment of uneven development and actually existing globalization in the GMS Cogent and persuasive Bounding the Mekong will attract attention from the growing number of scholars analyzing globalization neoliberalism regionalization and multiple scales of governance It is suitable for graduate courses in geography political science and sociology as well as courses with a regional focus
