Handbook of Research on Children's and Young Adult Literature Shelby Wolf,Karen Coats,Patricia Enciso,Christine Jenkins,2011-04-27 This multidisciplinary handbook pulls together in one volume the research on children s and young adult literature which is currently scattered across three intersecting disciplines education English and library and information science

Sitting at the Feet of the Past Gary D. Schmidt,Donald R. Hettinga,1992-09-15 Must a folktale be connected to its culture Can a tale with universal applications be transmitted from one culture to another without loss Does a teller from one culture have the ability or even the right to relate a tale from another culture What happens to a tale when it leaves the oral and adult arenas and appears in print for children Is it legitimate for a reteller to create variants to suit a child audience Children s literature is today the major conduit for folklore and professionals in the field must consider these questions

Editors Gary Schmidt and Donald Hettinga have brought together twenty three writers of children s literature illustrators storytellers and literary critics who explore the issues and offer their experiences and views The scope of the volume is the North American folktale a rich amalgam of four major distinct traditions the Native American folktale the African American folktale the retold Western European folktale and the American tall tale Each tradition is separately presented with an introductory survey and a selection of essays by the writers and critics This focused collection will be valuable to scholars and professions in folklore anthropology American literature and children s literature and useful also as a text in courses on children s literature and folklore

When the Lights Go Out Margaret Read MacDonald,1988 Designed primarily as a collection of scary fare for adults to tell elementary age children the tales may be read and some even told by children Also contains notes on the stories

Fairy Tales as Ways of Knowing Michael M. Metzger,Katharina Mommsen,1981 This collection represents the concerns of scholars in psychology folklore and literary criticism centering on the many faceted problems of the fairy tale The essays deal with the relationship of M rchen to the psyche and creative imagination on several levels ranging from their constructive socializing function in children Bruno Bettelheim through their quasi mythic cultural roles Linda D gh and special ways of depicting reality Maria Tatar and Erika A Metzger to their manifold influences on the poetic process and varying fortunes in the course of literary history Hansj rg Schelle Lawrence O Frye Cora Lee Nollendorfs James M McGlathery and Lee B Jennings

Children's Literature Kay E. Vandergrift,1990 Useful for practitioners as well as in the classroom this text treats literary theory research and the actual teaching of children s literature as one unit using course syllabi as practical illustration Ideal for staff in service programs
