Write Across Canada Mapping The Country In 19 Chapters:

Write Across Canada, 2004 In this book 19 of Canada's most acclaimed storytellers contribute the narrative pieces that together compose a humorously accurate national reflection. Each author was commissioned by the Ottawa International Writers Festival to write a chapter set in their local community in a serial story moving across the country from East to West. Started by Michael Winter in St John's Newfoundland, the narrative revolving around the ever-transforming everyday Canadians Bruce and Olivia is developed, embellished, deconstructed, and completely manipulated by the likes of Mark Anthony Jarman, Fredericton, NB; Alan Cumyn, Ottawa, ON; Helen Humphreys, Kingston, ON; Sheila Heti, Toronto, ON; Uma Parameswaran, Winnipeg, MB; Thomas Wharton, Edmonton, AB; Arthur Slade, Saskatoon, SK; Richard Van Camp, Fort Smith, NWT; Ivan E. Coyote, Whitehorse, YK; Steven Galloway, Vancouver, BC; Bill Gaston, Victoria, BC; Donna Morrissey, Halifax, NS; Lesley Anne Bourne, Charlottetown, PEI; Hermenegilde Chiasson, Moncton, NB; Nalini Warriar, Quebec City, PQ; Tess Fragoulis, Montreal, PQ; Dianne Warren, Regina, SK; and Paulo da Costa, Calgary, AB. Together, the authors represent the astounding regional and cultural diversity of contemporary Canadian literature. Write Across Canada is designed to celebrate our country, our communities, our regional identities, and our distinct voices through a literary project that is truly national in scope. The result is a constantly surprising and uproarious cross-country adventure that showcases an amazing diversity of voices and cultures.

Divided Highways, Heather Macfarlane, 2019-06-25 The road trip genre, well established in the literatures of Canada, is a natural outcome of the nation's obsession with geography. Divided Highways examines road narratives by Anglo-Canadian, Québécois, and Indigenous authors and the sense of place and nationhood in these communities. Geography describes the land and history; peoples, it just as memories connect us to place. This is why road trips are such a feature of writing in Canada, allowing the travellers to claim, at least symbolically, the terrain they have traversed. Macfarlane examines works by a variety of writers from each of these communities, including Gilles Archambault, Jeannette Armstrong, Jill Frayne, Tomson Highway, Claude Jasmin, Robert Kroetsch, Jacques Poulin, Aritha van Herk, and Paul Villeneuve, to name but a few. Studying a diversity of road narratives from Anglo-Canadian, Québécois, and Indigenous populations not only demonstrates the existence of a very specific road genre but is also revelatory of very diverse and often conflicting perceptions of nationhood. It is these expressions of sovereignty that are integral to ongoing discussions of reconciliation and decolonization. This book is published in English. Cet ouvrage étudie l'existence et la tradition du roman de la route au Canada. La géographie décrit le territoire et l'histoire; lui insuffle vie, tout comme les souvenirs sont des points d'attache. Un lieu donne, voilà pourquoi les road trips ont une place privilégiée dans l'écriture d'expression anglaise, française et autochtone du Canada. Ils permettent aux voyageurs de revendiquer, du moins symboliquement, le terrain qu'ils ont couvert. C'est l'intersection de l'histoire et de la géographie qui confère toute sa signification un voyage qui alimente cet esprit des lieux ou qui permet d'en constater l'absence. Les voyages sont révélateurs des intérêts propres aux trois groupes examinés dans le cadre de cette étude. Le désir et parfois la n cessit d'entreprendre un voyage les compagnons de voyage ainsi que les destinations de même que l'histoire qui s'écrit au fil des distances parcourues sont autant d'indicateurs de cette notion de l'espace et du concept de nation au sein du pays. Pour illustrer ce phénomène ce livre examine des œuvres littéraires d'une gamme d'écrivains anglophones qu'ils soient autochtones dont Gilles Archambault, Jeannette Armstrong, Jill Frayne, Tomson Highway, Linda Hogan, Scott Gardiner, Claude Jasmin, Robert Kroetsch, Lee Maracle, Jacques Poulin, Aritha van Herk et Paul Villeneuve. L'approche comparative aux littératures du Canada est le prolongement logique aux études postcoloniales dans la mesure où elle révèle les complexités de même que les spécificités de diverses communautés contribuant ainsi à une meilleure compréhension de collectivités nationales. Elle propose en outre des histoires qui font le contrepoids aux études transnationales. Ce livre est publié en anglais. Canadian Books in Print. Author and Title Index, 1975. Where Am I in the Picture? Claudia Mitchell, Katarina Giritli-Nygren, Relebohile Molestane, 2023-12-18. Positionality and researcher reflexivity: how to account for one's subject position remain as challenges for new researchers. But they also remain as challenges for experienced researchers who are often involved in multiple research projects simultaneously. Where Am I in the Picture sheds light on the idea of researcher positionality through visual methodologies particularly in the context of studying rurality in Canada, Sweden and South Africa. The book is intended for new and experienced researchers seeking to decolonize their own perspectives in research in the social sciences and humanities. It incorporates photographs, drawings and memory work to highlight the social constructedness of what counts as rural. Drawing together compelling narratives from researchers about their positionality in studying rurality, the book highlights a need for greater attention to where we are in the picture more broadly. It suggests that when it comes to the rural, researchers need to rethink the interplay of dominant images, insider and outsider perspectives and what this interplay means in relation to interpretation. Where Am I in the Picture presents a new vision of how to take into consideration positionality in research. The Canadian Almanac and Miscellaneous Directory, 1918. The New World Book List, George, firm, publishers, Bristol, Eng.
