Understanding, Evaluating, and Conducting Second Language Writing Research Charlene Polio, Debra A. Friedman, 2016-11-18 Understanding Evaluating and Conducting

Second Language Writing Research speaks to the rapidly growing area of second language writing by providing a uniquely balanced approach to L2 writing research. While other books favor either a qualitative or quantitative approach to second language acquisition, SLA research, this text is comprehensive in scope and does not privilege one approach over the other, illuminating the strengths of each and the ways in which they might complement each other. It also provides equal weight to the cognitive and socio-cultural approaches to SLA. Containing an array of focal studies and suggestions for further reading, this text is the ideal resource for students beginning to conduct L2 writing research as well as for more experienced researchers who wish to expand their approach to conducting research.

Intersections, Theory-practice in the Writing Center Joan A. Mullin, Ray Wallace, 1994. The 15 essays in this book reveal the complexity of teaching writing with some contributors calling into question the gap between classroom theory and classroom practice as seen through students and tutors' perspectives. The book analyzes the cornerstone of theory and proposes a reexamination of some taken-for-granted composition practices. After an introduction, the theory behind the centers by Joan A. Mullin, the essays in the book are:

RS Teaching Academic Writing in European Higher Education Lennart Björk, Gerd Bräuer, L. Rienecker, Peter Stray, Jörgensen, 2005-12-30. DAVID R. RUSSELL, English Department of Iowa State University, U.S.A. I was fortunate to attend as a visitor from the U.S. the first European Association for the Teaching of Academic Writing (EATAW) conference in 2001 at Groningen. I was struck by the similarities in the challenges higher education faces on both sides of the Atlantic in terms of developing students' academic writing and students learning through writing. It is indeed an international problem. But I was equally struck by the profound differences in responding to these challenges among institutions, disciplines, and even within disciplines. The essays in this extraordinary volume address a growing demand for help with academic writing on the part of students and academic staff alike. And they do so in ways that bring fresh approaches not only to Europeans who have only recently begun to study academic writing but also to researchers and academic staff in the U.S. where we have a century old tradition of attention to the problem but are much in need of these fresh approaches Academic writing has become a problem in higher education all around the world because higher education sits smack between two contradictory pressures On one end far more students and far more diverse students come streaming into higher education bringing in a far greater diversity of linguistic resources often interpreted as standards are falling as Frank Haacke Tente point out Academic Discourse John Flowerdew,2014-06-11 Academic Discourse presents a collection of specially commissioned articles on the theme of academic discourse Divided into sections covering the main approaches each begins with a state of the art overview of the approach and continues with exemplificatory empirical studies Genre analysis corpus linguistics contrastive rhetoric and ethnography are comprehensively covered through the analysis of various academic genres research articles PhD these textbooks argumentative essays and business cases Academic Discourse brings together state of the art analysis and theory in a single volume It also features an introduction which provides a survey and rationale for the material implications for pedagogy at the end of each chapter topical review articles with example studies a glossary The breadth of critical writing and from a wide geographical spread makes Academic Discourse a fresh and insightful addition to the field of discourse analysis A Bibliography on Writing and Written Language Jacek Fisiak,Konrad Ehlich,Florian Coulmas,Gabriele Graefen,1995 Es ,2004 The CATESOL Journal ,2003 Teaching in Progress Josephine Koster Tarvers,Cynthia Moore,2002-08
