Writing And Sexual Difference

Mary Jacobus

Writing And Sexual Difference:

Writing and Sexual Difference Elizabeth Abel, 1982
Jacobus, 2002 Language and Sexual Difference Susan Sellers, 1991-12-02 An accessible introduction to French feminist theory and contemporary French women's writing for non-French speakers. The book offers a context to this challenging controversial body of work by giving clear accounts of the philosophical post-structural and psychoanalytic debates which have had such an impact on French intellectual life in recent years and to which French feminist writers offer a response.

Helene Cixous Abigail Bray, Julian Wolfreys, 2003-12-11 Abigail Bray offers a lucid and accessible introduction to Helene Cixous and her theorisation of writing and sexual difference. This book explores the context of feminist debates surrounding Cixous's work and provides a concise explanation of her major philosophical and literary concepts including the other, bisexuality, the third body and l'écriture féminine. Bray demonstrates through original and provocative readings of texts by James Joyce, Virginia Woolf, Clarice Lispector and Angela Carter the creative potential of Cixous's thought on literature and philosophy. Reading Cixous alongside Nietzsche, Heidegger, Deleuze and Derrida, Bray argues for a recognition of Cixous as one of the important thinkers of our times.

Romanticism Writing and Sexual Difference Mary Jacobus, 1989 In the light of post-structuralism and feminist theory, this book reappraises The Prelude using Romantic autobiography, theatrical politics and history in order to outline the role of gender in Romantic self-representation and pedagogy.

Derrida and the Writing of the Body Jones Irwin, 2016-04-22 Michel Foucault refers to 1965-1970 as, in philosophical terms, the five brief impassioned, jubilant, enigmatic years. This book reinterprets Jacques Derrida's work from this period, most especially in L'écriture et la Différence, Writing and Difference, and argues that a transformation takes place here which has been marginalized in readings of his work to date. Irwin follows with a look at how the grammatological opening becomes crucial for Derrida's work in the 1970s and beyond, incorporating one of his last readings of embodiment from 2000. By drawing our attention to the politics of desire and sexuality, this groundbreaking book engages with the work of key continental theorists including Artaud, Bataille, Nietzsche, Heidegger, Habermas and Cixous, whilst also examining Derrida's relationship with Plato and feminist theory. It will appeal to a wide range of readers within the social sciences and philosophy, particularly those with interests in gender and sexuality, social theory, continental thought, queer studies and literary theory.

Liotard and the 'figural' in Performance, Art and Writing Kiff Bamford, 2012-06-28 An innovative study of the thought and writings of Jean-François Lyotard in relation to contemporary art and in particular performance art.

Subjectivity and Sexuality in Contemporary Chinese Feminist Writing Ruttapond Swanpitak, 2025-02-17 This book explores representations of female sexuality and subjectivity in contemporary Chinese fiction by three women writers published from 1986 to 2000 from the perspective of post-structuralist feminism. It discusses the representative works of authors Wang Anyi, Tie Ning and Chi Li, who are well known in the Chinese literary field. However, their works have not to date been analysed through the poststructuralist feminism's notions of subjectivity, femininity and transgression. This book then provides detailed analysis of each writer and draws comparisons between their works to provide an extended consideration of female sexuality and subjectivity within post-Mao Chinese fiction. In this respect, this book not only offers fresh insights into the three authors' fiction but also contributes to the feminist study of Chinese women's writing. Additionally, the research contributes to a better understanding of contemporary Chinese culture in relation to patriarchy, misogyny, feminism, differences and resistance. It is relevant to scholars in the fields of China studies, Chinese literature, feminist literature and gender studies.

Women's Writing, 1660-1830 Jennie Batchelor, Gillian Dow, 2016-12-19. This book is about mapping the future of eighteenth-century women's writing and feminist literary history in an academic culture that is not shy of declaring their obsolescence. It asks what can or should unite us as scholars devoted to the recovery and study of women's literary history in an era of big data on the one hand and ever more narrowly defined specialization on the other. Leading scholars from the UK and US answer this question in thought-provoking, cross-disciplinary and often polemical essays. Contributors attend to the achievements of eighteenth-century women writers and the scholars who have devoted their lives to them and map new directions for the advancement of research in the area. They collectively argue that eighteenth-century women's literary history has a future and that feminism was and always should be at its heart. Featuring a Preface by Isobel Grundy and a Postscript by Cora Kaplan.

The relationship between writing, gender relations and sexuality in modernist fiction with reference to "Mrs. Dalloway" and "Ulysses" Ulrike Häßler, 2005-08-30. Essay from the year 2001 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies. Literature grade B. Staffordshire University. language English. abstract. The modernist writers were deeply influenced by the changing gender relations and the attitude towards sexuality within society, which is reflected in their literary works. The patriarchal society was more and more questioned, particularly by an awakening feminist movement, and sexuality became a present issue of discourse after new theories had been introduced. Virginia Woolf's Mrs Dalloway and James Joyce's Ulysses are discussed as two examples of a modernist novel in order to explain in which ways modernist writers dealt with the aspects of gender and sexuality.

Hybridity in Life Writing Arnaud Schmitt, 2024-04-28. This book offers new perspectives on text-image hybridity in the context of life writing. Each chapter explores the very topical issue of how writers and artists combine two media in order to enhance the autobiographical narrative and experience of the reader. It questions the position of images in relation to text, both on the page and in terms of the power balance between media. It also shows how hybridity operates beyond a semantic and cultural balance of power, as the combination of text and images are able to produce content that would not have been possible separately. Including a range of life writing and different visual media from paintings and photography to graphic memoirs and social media, this edited collection investigates the point at which an image, whether fixed or moving, enters the autobiographical act and confronts the verbal form.

Beckett, Lacan and the Mathematical Writing of the Real Arka Chattopadhyay, 2019-01-01. Beckett, Lacan and the Mathematical Writing of the Real proposes writing as a mathematical and logical operation to build a bridge between Lacanian psychoanalysis and Samuel Beckett's prose works. Arka Chattopadhyay studies aspects such as the fundamental operational logic of a text, use of mathematical forms like geometry and arithmetic, the human obsession with counting, the moving body as an act of writing and love and sexuality as a challenge to the limits of what can be written through logic and mathematics. Chattopadhyay reads Beckett's prose works including How It Is, Company, Worstward Ho, Malone Dies and Enough to highlight this terminal writing which halts endless meanings with the material body of the word and gives Beckett a medium to inscribe what cannot be written otherwise. Writing Vicki Christine Kirby, 1992 Revisiting the Scene of Writing: New Readings of Cixous Julia Dobson, Gill Rye, 2000 This issue of Paragraph Revisiting the Scene of Writing: New Readings of Cixous aims both to reflect and to foster the extraordinary ongoing impact of Helene Cixous's writing across a wide spectrum of academic disciplines and literary forms.

What Is Sexual Difference? Mary C. Rawlinson, James Sares, 2023-07-11 Luce Irigaray has written that sexual difference is one of the major philosophical issues if not the issue of our age. Spanning metaphysics, phenomenology and psychoanalysis, her work examines how sexual difference structures being and subjectivity, organizes our experience of the world and affects the images and discourses involved in knowledge production and practical action. No other philosopher has paid such careful attention to the consequences of the elision of sexual difference in philosophical thought. However, at a time when notions of sexual and gender difference are hotly contested, Irigaray's thought has often been dismissed as essentialist or reductively binary. This book brings together leading scholars to consider the philosophical implications of Irigaray's writing on sexual difference, particularly for issues of gender and race. Their essays directly confront the charge of essentialism, exploring how Irigaray's thought opens new possibilities for understanding the complexity of gender identities, including nonbinary and trans experiences, as well as alternative configurations of masculinity and femininity. Though Irigaray is sometimes accused of a failure to appreciate racial difference, contributors show the productive role of her work in thinking race. This book also illuminates how Irigaray's work provides creative practices that help realign human experience and our relations with nature and each other. Writing Differences Susan Sellers, 1988 This book is a collection of readings from the members of Helene Cixous' research seminar at the Centre d'Etudes Feminines in Paris. They have been commissioned to illustrate the Centre's pioneering work on sexual difference and its relationship to the literary text. The readings cover a multi-national range of literatures and a variety of literary periods and genres. Textual (Re)construction Jyanni Steffensen, 1991
