Writing From The Center:

Landmark Essays in Contemporary Writing Center Studies Neal Lerner, Paula Gillespie, 2024-11-01 This volume collects essential writings in the field of writing center studies as it has blossomed and developed since the 1995 publication of Landmark Essays on Writing Centers. These writings offer a new generation of writing center readers provocative ideas and research based praxis on the topics covered in the book's four parts: Writing Center History, Critical Perspectives on Current Practices, Writing Center Research, and Writing Centers in New Spaces. Its provocative chapters discuss issues including student agency, collaboration, social justice, and marginalized populations, community engagement, and online writing instruction. Landmark Essays in Contemporary Writing Center Studies provides an up to date introduction to new students and a useful reference for long time practitioners. It is essential reading for undergraduate and graduate students in composition and education as well as writing center staff and directors. Writing Center Talk over Time Jo Mackiewicz, 2018-06-27 In the last 15 to 20 years writing centers have placed greater importance on tutor training focusing on teaching tutors best practices in fostering student writers engagement and writing skills. Writing Center Talk over Time explores the importance of writing center talk and demonstrates the efficacy of tutor training. The book uses corpus driven analysis and discourse analysis to examine the changes in writing center talk over time to provide a baseline understanding of the very heart of writing center work: the talk that unfolds between tutors and student writers. It is this talk that at its best motivates student writers to continue to improve their writing and scaffolds their learning and that makes tutors proud of the service that they provide. The methods and analysis of this study are intended to inform other researchers so that they may conduct further research into the efficacy of writing center talk. Researching the Writing Center Rebecca Day Babcock, Terese Thonus, 2018-02 Revised edition of Researching the writing center 2012 Writing Center Research Paula Gillespie, Alice Gillam, Lady Falls Brown, Byron Stay, 2001-12-01 There are writing centers at almost every college and university in the United States and there is an emerging body of professional discourse research and writing about them. The goal of this book is to open, formalize and further the dialogue about research in and about writing centers. The original essays in this volume all written by writing center researchers directly address current concerns in several ways: they encourage studies, data collection and publication by offering detailed reflective accounts of research; they encourage a diversity of approaches by demonstrating a range of methodologies e.g. ethnography, longitudinal case study, rhetorical analysis, teacher research; available to both veteran and novice writing center professionals; they advance an ongoing conversation about writing center research by explicitly addressing epistemological and ethical issues. The book aims to encourage and guide other researchers while at the same time offering new knowledge that has resulted from the studies it analyzes. A Guide to Creating Student-staffed Writing Centers, Grades 6-12 Richard Kent, 2006 Writing centers are places where writers work with each other in an effort to develop ideas, discover a thesis, overcome procrastination, create an outline.

or revise a draft Ultimately writing centers help students become more effective writers Visit any college or university in the United States and chances are there is a writing center available to students staff and community members A Guide to Creating Student Staffed Writing Centers Grades 6 12 is a how to and ultimately a why to book for middle school and high school educators as well as for English language arts teacher candidates and their methods instructors Writing centers support students and their busy teachers while emphasizing and supporting writing across the curriculum The Successful High School Writing Center Dawn Fels, Jennifer Wells, 2011-11-01 This book highlights the work of talented teachers and tutors who connect theory and practice with the lessons they learned from working with students in their high school writing centers The authors offer innovative methods for secondary and post secondary educators interested in adolescent literacy English Language Learners new literacies writing center pedagogy and evaluation embedded professional development differentiated instruction and cross institutional collaboration The Successful High School Writing Center demonstrates how writing centers help school communities that serve diverse student populations grapple with the realities that come with literacy education Depicting real life writing centers as leaders in literacy education the accounts presented will enrich the work of teachers writing center directors writing center tutors and student writers in socially significant ways Book Features Models of writing centers and literacy centers that explicitly integrate reading and writing across the curriculum Creative strategies from a diversity of schools models and students served Literacy based collaborative research projects for writing center evaluation Helpful forms

The Writing Center Director's Resource Book Christina Murphy, Byron Stay, 2012-11-12 The Writing Center Director s Resource Book has been developed to serve as a guide to writing center professionals in carrying out their various roles duties and responsibilities It is a resource for those whose jobs not only encompass a wide range of tasks but also require a broad knowledge of multiple issues The volume provides information on the most significant areas of writing center work that writing center professionals both new and seasoned are likely to encounter It is structured for use in diverse institutional settings providing both current knowledge as well as case studies of specific settings that represent the types of challenges and possible outcomes writing center professionals may experience This blend of theory with actual practice provides a multi dimensional view of writing center work In the end this book serves not only as a resource but also as a guide to future directions for the writing center which will continue to evolve in response to a myriad of new challenges that will lie ahead Landmark Essays on Writing Centers Christina Murphy, Joe Law, 2013-10-18 This collection introduces the reader to the ideas that have shaped writing center theory and practice The essays have been selected not only for the insight they offer into issues but also for their contributions to writing center scholarship These papers help to chart the legitimation of writing centers by providing both a history and an examination of the philosophies praxis and politics that have defined this emerging field They demonstrate the ways a clearer profile of the discipline has emerged from the research and reflection of writers like those represented here This volume charts the emergence of writing centers and the growing recognition of their contributions roles and importance As a nascent discipline writing centers reflect the concerns with marginality and with finding a respected place in the academy that characterize any new field of academic inquiry practice and research Concomitantly professionals in these fields seek standing within the academy and a way of defining and validating their contributions to the educational process Contemporary writing center theorists look to interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary investigations to interpret the work they do and to clarify their aims to the academy at large Their work employs a variety of philosophical perspectives ranging from sociolinguistics to psychoanalytic theory to show the complex nature and potential of writing center interactions The idea has now become the multidimensional realities of the writing center within the academy and within society as a whole What its role will be in future redefinitions of the educational process how that role will be negotiated and evaluated and how professionals will shape educational values will constitute the future landmark directions and essays on writing center theory and practice

Transnational Writing Program Administration David S. Martins, 2015-03-15 While local conditions remain at the forefront of writing program administration transnational activities are slowly and thoroughly shifting the questions we ask about writing curricula the space and place in which writing happens and the cultural and linguistic issues at the heart of the relationships forged in literacy work Transnational Writing Program Administration challenges taken for granted assumptions regarding program identity curriculum and pedagogical effectiveness logistics and quality assurance faculty and student demographics innovative partnerships and research and the infrastructure needed to support writing instruction in higher education Well known scholars and new voices in the field extend the theoretical underpinnings of writing program administration to consider programs activities and institutions involving students and faculty from two or more countries working together and highlight the situated practices of such efforts The collection brings translingual graduate students at the forefront of writing studies together with established administrators teachers and researchers and intends to enrich the efforts of WPAs by examining the practices and theories that impact our ability to conceive of writing program administration as transnational This collection will enable writing program administrators to take the emerging locations of writing instruction seriously to address the role of language difference in writing and to engage critically with the key notions and approaches to writing program administration that reveal its transnationality

Noise From The Writing Center Elizabeth Boquet, 2002-03 In Noise from the Writing Center Boquet develops a theory of noise and excess as an important element of difference between the pedagogy of writing centers and the academy in general Addressing administrative issues Boquet strains against the bean counting anxiety that seems to drive so much of writing center administration Pedagogically she urges a more courageous practice developed via metaphors of music and improvisation and argues for noise excess and performance as uniquely appropriate to the education of writers and tutors in the center Personal even irreverent in style Boquet is also theoretically sophisticated and she draws from an eclectic range of work in academic and popular culture from Foucault to Attali to Jimi Hendrix She includes as well the voices of writing center tutors with whom she conducted research and she finds some of her most inspiring moments in the words and work of those tutors

Creative Approaches to Writing Center Work Kevin Dvorak, Shanti Bruce, 2008 This is the first book length attempt to address the role creativity plays in writing centers Beginning with the premise that creativity has the potential to make work and learning environments more productive and possibly more dangerous the ideals in this collection will complicate visions of what writing centers can and should be Striking a balance between theory and practice readers will learn about creative tutor training and staff meeting activities how to use toys to tutor and how to tutor creative writers and finally how to implement creative outreach programs Those who are in search of ways to infuse their centers with creativity and fun will find this book to be an invaluable inspirational resource Talk about Writing Jo Mackiewicz, Isabelle Thompson, 2018-04-24 Talk about Writing The Tutoring Strategies of Experienced Writing Center Tutors offers a book length empirical study of the discourse between experienced tutors and student writers in satisfactory conferences It analyzes writing center talk focusing on tutors verbal strategies at the macro and microlevels The study details tutors use of three categories of tutoring strategies instruction cognitive scaffolding and motivational scaffolding with each chapter of the analysis ending in practical advice about tutor training The second edition adds to the discussion of research provided in the first edition maintaining the two previous goals to provide a theory based coding scheme for analyzing tutoring strategies according to their potential for instructing and scaffolding student writers learning and to demonstrate that analysis on 10 satisfactory conferences conducted by experienced writing center tutors New to this edition the authors expand the previous discussion of the coding scheme with additional details about its development Along with the expanded Chapter 3 about research methods this edition features new examples from the corpus of conferences and updates the literature review Peripheral Visions for Writing Centers Jackie Grutsch McKinney, 2013-04-15 Peripheral Visions for Writing Centers aims to inspire a re conception and re envisioning of the boundaries of writing center work Moving beyond the grand narrative of the writing center that it is solely a comfortable yet iconoclastic place where all students go to get one to one tutoring on their writing McKinney shines light on other representations of writing center work McKinney argues that this grand narrative neglects the extent to which writing center work is theoretically and pedagogically complex with ever changing work and conditions and results in a straitjacket for writing center scholars practitioners students and outsiders alike Peripheral Visions for Writing Centers makes the case for a broader narrative of writing center work that recognizes and theorizes the various spaces of writing center labor allows for professionalization of administrators and sees tutoring as just one way to perform writing center work McKinney explores possibilities that lie outside the grand narrative allowing scholars and practitioners to open the field to a fuller richer and more realistic representation of their material labor and intellectual work

Student Writing Tutors in Their Own Words Max Orsini, Loren Kleinman, 2022-06-24 Student Writing Tutors in Their Own Words collects personal narratives from writing tutors around the world providing tutors faculty and writing center professionals with a diverse and experience based understanding of the writing support process Filling a major gap in the research on writing center theory first year writing pedagogy and higher education academic support resources this book provides narrative evidence of students own experiences with learning assistance discourse communities It features a variety of voices that address how academic support resources such as writing centers have served as the nucleus for students i e both tutors and their clients sense of community and self ultimately providing a space for freedom of discourse and expression It includes narratives from writing tutors supporting students in unconventional spaces such as prisons tutors offering support in war torn countries and students in international centers facing challenges of distance learning access and language barriers The essays in this collection reveal pedagogical takeaways and insights about both student and tutor collaborative experiences in writing center spaces These essays are a valuable resource for student writing tutors and anyone involved with them including composition instructors and scholars writing center professionals and any faculty or administrators involved with academic support programs
