Kinneavy, William J. McCleary, Neil Nakadate, 1985 Landmark Essays on Writing Across the Curriculum Charles Bazerman, David Russell, 2020-11-25 Rhetoric as a general teaching while preaching locality of action and guidelines for handling that locality has tended from the beginning to serve as a universality It has offered a generalized techne with only limited categories appropriate for all discursive situations at least for those that were not excluded from the realm of rhetoric Nonetheless from its beginnings rhetoric limited its interests to certain activity fields such as law government religion and most important the educators of leaders in these activity fields This collection presents landmarks showing where the Writing Across the Curriculum WAC and Writing in the Disciplines WID movements have gone They have opened up a number of prospects that were impossible to see when rhetoric and composition confined their gaze to relatively few discursive activities This suggests that the rhetorical landscape is becoming more complex and interesting as well as more responsive to life in the complex differentiated societies that have emerged in the last few centuries This volume will reveal to scholars and researchers a range of possibilities for the study of disciplinary discourse and its teaching and suggest to them new prospects for the future and for the better The Liberal Arts Tradition Bruce A. Kimball, 2010-05-13 Ranging from Plato in antiquity to Martha Nussbaum in the present era the authors of the seventy readings included in The Liberal Arts Tradition present significant and exemplary views addressing liberal arts education over the course of its history particularly in the United States Most of the documents are newly translated or no longer available in print Arranged chronologically each selection is accompanied by an informative introduction and extensive explanatory notes discussing its place within the liberal arts tradition Based upon the author's twenty five years of experience leading seminars concerning the history of liberal education this collection presents a uniquely comprehensive and salient set of documents while incorporating the neglected portrayal and discussion of women within the history of the liberal arts Writing Majors Greg Giberson, Jim Nugent, Lori Ostergaard, 2015-02-01 The writing major is among the most exciting scenes in the evolving American university Writing Majors is a collection of firsthand descriptions of the origins growth and transformations of eighteen different programs The chapters provide useful administrative insight benchmark information and even inspiration for new curricular configurations from a range of institutions A practical sourcebook for those who are building revising or administering their own writing majors this volume also serves as a historical archive of a particular instance of growth and transformation in American higher education Revealing bureaucratic practical and institutional matters as well as academic

Letter-writing Manuals and Instruction from Antiquity to the Present Carol Poster,Linda C. Mitchell,2007 Once nearly as ubiquitous as dictionaries and cookbooks are today letter writing manuals and their predecessors served to instruct individuals not only on the art of letter composition but also in effect on personal conduct Poster and Mitchell contend that the study of letter writing theory which bridges rhetorical theory and grammatical studies represents an emerging discipline in need of definition In this volume they gather the contributions of eleven experts to sketch the contours of epistolary theory and collect the historic and bibliographic materials from Isocrates to email that form the basis for its study

Building Writing Center Assessments That Matter Ellen Schendel,William J. Macauley, Jr.,2012-10-16 No less than other divisions of the college or university contemporary writing centers find themselves within a galaxy of competing questions and demands that relate to assessment questions and demands that usually embed priorities from outside the purview of the writing center itself Writing centers are used to certain kinds of assessment both quantitative and qualitative but are often unprepared to address larger institutional or societal issues In Building Writing Center Assessments that Matter Schendel and Macauley start from the kinds of assessment strengths already in place in writing centers and they build a framework that can help writing centers satisfy local needs and put them in useful dialogue with the larger needs of their institutions while staying rooted in writing assessment theory The authors begin from the position that tutoring writers is already an assessment activity and that good assessment practice rooted in the work of Adler Kassner O Neill Moore and Huot already reflects the values of writing center theory and practice They offer examples of assessments developed in local contexts and of how assessment data built within those contexts can powerfully inform decisions and shape the futures of local writing centers With additional contributions by Neal Lerner Brian Huot and Nicole Caswell and with a strong commitment to honoring on site local needs the volume does not advocate a one size fits all answer But like the modeling often used in a writing consultation examples here illustrate how important assessment principles have been applied in a range of local contexts Ultimately Building Writing Assessments that Matter describes a theory stance toward assessment for writing centers that honors the uniqueness of the writing center context and examples of assessment in action that are concrete manageable portable and adaptable Handbook of Research on Teaching the English Language Arts James Flood,1991 Research in the area of language arts education has changed dramatically over the past two decades The Handbook of Research on Teaching the English Language Arts is the first comprehensive definitive guide to what we know about language arts teachers the processes involved in learning the language arts and language arts instruction The articles are organized into five sections Theoretical Bases for English Language Arts Teaching Methods of Research on English Language Arts Teaching Research on Language Learners Environments for English Language Arts Teaching Research on Teaching Specific Aspects of the English Language Arts Curriculum WPA, Writing Program Administration ,2004 Twentieth-Century Rhetorics and Rhetoricians Michael G.
