Space Of His Own:

A Space of Their Own Katie Baker, Naomi Walker, 2023-03-31 This collection explores how nineteenth and twentieth century women writers incorporated the idea of place into their writing Whether writing from a specific location or focusing upon a particular geographical or imaginary place women writers working between 1850 and 1950 valued a space of their own in which to work The period on which this collection focuses straddles two main areas of study nineteenth century writing and early twentieth century modernist writing so it enables discussion of how ideas of space progressed alongside changes in styles of writing It looks to the many ways women writers explored concepts of space and place and how they expressed these through their writings for example how they interpreted both urban and rural landscapes and how they presented domestic spaces A Space of Their Own will be of interest to those studying Victorian literature and modernist works as it covers a period of immense change for women's rights in society It is also not limited to just one type or definition of space Therefore it may also be of interest to academics outside of literature for example in gender studies cultural geography place writing and digital humanities

Occupying Space in American Literature and Culture Ana M. Manzanar, Jesús Benito Sanchez, 2014-04-24 Occupying Space in American Literature and Culture inscribes itself within the spatial turn that permeates the ways we look at literary and cultural productions The volume seeks to clarify the connections between race space class and identity as it concentrates on different occupations and disoccupations enclosures and boundaries Space is scaled up and down from the body the ground zero of spatiality to the textuology of Manhattan from the striated place of the office in Melville's Bartleby the Scrivener on Wall Street to the striated spaces of internment camps and reservations from the lowest of the low the human clutter that lined the streets of Albany NY during the Depression to the new Towers of Babel that punctuate the contemporary architecture of transparencies As it strings together these spatial narratives the volume reveals how beyond the boundaries that characterize each space every location has loose ends that are impossible to contain

The Nation, 1923 The Master Idea Raymond Landon Bridgman, 1899

On the Essence of Language and the Question of Art Martin Heidegger, 2022-11-29 The texts and notes collected in this volume offer unique insight into the development of Heidegger's thinking on language and art from the late 1930s to the early 1950s a tumultuous period both for Heidegger personally and for Germany as a whole Following

Germany's defeat in World War II Heidegger was banned from teaching at Freiburg University where he had been a professor since 1928 and his thinking underwent significant changes as he began to cultivate different modes of silence and non saying in his philosophy of language This volume illuminates these shifts and charts the evolution of key terms in Heidegger's philosophy of language during this key period in the development of his thought The central theme of Heidegger's reflections on language in this volume is his repeated engagement with the character of the word silence and the unsaid and his rejection of the instrumental conception of language where he instead prioritized conversation as the homeland of language Alongside references to Holderlin and von Hofmannsthal and shrewd scrutiny of aural phenomena such as silent thought and speechlessness speech is demonstrated to be intimately connected to the human essence In a later section Heidegger examines the place of art in particular the plastic arts and the role of the artist in conjunction with the new industrial landscape and architecture of his time and in juxtaposition with ancient Greek attitudes to space and the polis This key work by Heidegger now available in English for the first time will be of great interest to students and scholars of philosophy and to anyone interested in Heidegger's thought
