Uganda Post Conflict Reconstruction:

Uganda ,2000-01-01 An overview of the World Bank s experience in post conflict reconstruction with particular reference to Uganda Recovery and Development Politics Florence Odora Adong,2011 This Discussion Paper addresses questions related to the causes evolution and legacies of the prolonged war in Northern Uganda between the rebel LRA and government forces It critically examines the Government of Uganda s experience in drafting and implementing various plans for recovery and peacebuilding in Northern Uganda and proffers explanations for their limited success It also analyses the threats posed by the continued marginalisation of Northern region and the persistence of poverty and underdevelopment relative to the more prosperous regions of the country Of note is the concern about a possible regression into violent conflict and the breakdown of the fragile peace in Acholiland The paper provides an alternative reading of the conflict and makes a compelling case for a radical paradigm of economic recovery sustainable peace and development based on conflict sensitive inclusive socially just and people centred policies It is essential reading for scholars peace and security practitioners activists and humanitarian and development workers with a keen interest in post conflict reconstruction reconciliation and peacebuilding in Africa

The World Bank's Experience with Post-conflict Reconstruction ,1998-01-01 Clearing landmines rehabilitating and integrating of excombatants rebuilding the infrastructure coordinating aid sources these are just some of the issues confronting the Bank in post conflict reconstruction The explosion of civil conflicts in the post Cold War world has tested the World Bank s ability to address unprecedented devastation of human and social capital This study covers post conflict reconstruction in nine countries assessing relevant recent Bank experience It also presents case studies for ongoing and future operations which analyze 1 the Bank s main strengths or comparative advantages 2 its partnership with other donors international organizations and NGOs 3 its role in reconstruction strategy and damage and needs assessment 4 its role in rebuilding the economy and institutions of governance 5 its management of resources and processes 6 implications for monitoring and evaluation Explaining Postconflict Reconstruction Desha M. Girod,2015 The international community has donated nearly one trillion dollars during the last four decades to reconstruct post conflict countries and prevent the outbreak of more civil war Yet reconstruction has eluded many of these countries and 1.9 million people have been killed in reignited conflict Where did the money go This book documents how some leaders do bring about remarkable reconstruction of their countries using foreign aid but many other post conflict leaders fail to do so Offering a global argument that is the first of its kind Desha Girod explains that post conflict leaders are more likely to invest aid in reconstruction when they are desperate for income and thus depend on aid that comes with reconstruction strings attached Leaders are desperate for income when they lack access to rents from natural resources or to aid from donors with strategic interests in the country Using data on civil wars that ended between 1970 and 2009 and evidence both from countries that succeeded and from countries that failed at post conflict reconstruction Girod carefully examines the argument from different perspectives and finds support for it The findings are important for theory and policy because they explain why only some leaders have the political will to meet donor goals in the wake of civil war The findings also shed light on state building processes and on the political economy of postconflict countries Paradoxically donors are most likely to achieve reconstruction goals in countries where they have the least at stake Post-conflict Reconstruction, 1998 Post-conflict reconstruction and the international community in Uganda, 1986-2000 Nicholas De Torrenté, 2001 Decolonizing NGO Peacebuilding and Liberal Peace Agenda in Northern Uganda Elias O.
