Coping With Loss Susan Nolen-Hoeksema,Judith Larson,Judith M. Larson,2013-01-11 Coping With Loss describes the many ways in which people cope with the death of someone they love Most earlier books on bereavement have fallen into two categories distillations of the clinical experience of individual therapists or collections of chapters reporting the results of empirical studies Each category is valuable but has tended to serve a narrow group of readers practitioners with particular theoretical orientations or researchers in quest of the latest findings Coauthored by a leading research psychologist and an experienced therapist who specializes in bereavement education and intervention this book is different The authors weave together the strands of theory research and clinical wisdom into a seamless and readable narrative While they discuss previous work they also present new data never before published from one of the largest studies of bereaved people ever conducted the Bereavement Coping Project Unlike most studies to date which focused on only one type of bereaved group usually widows or widowers the Bereavement Coping Project examined the experiences of several different groups during the first 18 months after the death The groups included those who had lost a spouse a parent an adult sibling or a child and those who had lost their significant other to cancer or cardiovascular disease on one hand as opposed to the stigmatized disease of AIDS on the other The book begins with a critical overview of theories of bereavement succeeding chapters explore in depth the impact of specific types of loss the impact of particular coping strategies on recovery the impact of social supports and religion and the special cases of children and of people who seem to grow and change for the better after a loss A final chapter considers implications for intervention with bereaved people Each chapter is richly illuminated with real life examples throughout and ends with a section called Voices in which bereaved people describe their various attempts to cope in their own words Insightful and informative Bereavement Colin Murray Parkes,1975 Understanding the Journey Hilda R. Glazer,Myra Clark-Foster,2019-07-03 The death of a loved one is a traumatic event for both adults and children Grieving has no rules no prescribed course or expiration date After a death the feelings and experiences that follow can be extremely overwhelming and confusing The authors of this book create a supportive environment that normalizes the phases of grief through clinical expertise including a lifespan approach that indicates grief is certainly a journey from which none of us ever escapes nor perhaps reaches closure This is an important work that addresses the spiritual emotional psychological and physical aspects of a person s grief Specific topics include the physical aspects of grief anticipatory grief grief through a child s eyes understanding grief and spirituality counseling the bereaved adult adult grief support groups death in a military family counseling grieving children and traumatic loss messages of mourning using art to facilitate a child s expression of grief and the importance of self care In addition numerous case examples describing real life experiences are discussed helping to enhance coping and encourage healing The text is further enhanced by an appendix containing a wealth of information that includes sample group activities This book will be a significant resource for mental health professionals grief counselors human service providers social workers clergy nurses and lay volunteers Cambridge Handbook of Psychology, Health and Medicine Susan Ayers,Andrew Baum,Chris McManus,Stanton Newman,Kenneth Wallston,John Weinman,Robert West,2007-08-23 Health psychology is a rapidly expanding discipline at the interface of psychology and clinical medicine This new edition is fully reworked and revised offering an entirely up to date comprehensive accessible one stop resource for clinical psychologists mental health professionals and specialists in health related matters There are two new editors Susan Ayers from the University of Sussex and Kenneth Wallston from Vanderbilt University Medical Center The prestigious editorial team and their international interdisciplinary cast of authors have reconceptualised their much acclaimed handbook The book is now in two parts part I covers psychological aspects of health and illness assessments interventions and healthcare practice Part II covers medical matters listed in alphabetical order Among the many new topics added are diet and health ethnicity and health clinical interviewing mood assessment communicating risk medical interviewing diagnostic procedures organ donation IVF MMR HRT sleep disorders skin disorders depression and anxiety disorders

Challenges in Counselling: Loss Sally Flatteau Taylor, 2013-06-21 Draw upon relevant research and the author's experience to outline and contextualise the key aspects of loss theoretical concepts approaches and vocabulary terms Loss and bereavement is a sensitive area no two stories will ever be the same At its core this resource aims to explore the common anxieties your students will encounter in this specific setting and provide strategies for managing the challenges unique to loss counselling It is a practical guide for anyone taking an award certificate or diploma in counselling and for experienced practitioners looking to implement best practice

Bereavement Counselling Effectiveness Hazel Danbury, 1996 Using the views of consumers of bereavement services to discover what their opinions are as to the effectiveness of the bereavement counselling service this study interviewed 60 recently widowed people soon after their bereavement counselling ended A number of conclusions and recommendations are drawn such as the need for training and support for the doctors and nurses responsible for breaking bad news Also explored is the confusion which lies in the terminology between bereavement and professional counselling
