The dictionary of English history, ed. by S. J. Low and F. S. Pulling English history, 1897 Celts, Romans, Britons Francesca Kaminski-Jones, Rhys Kaminski-Jones, 2020 This book investigates the ways in which ideas associated with the Celtic and the Classical have been used to construct identities national ethnic regional etc in Britain from the period of the Roman conquest to the present day World Writers in English Jay Parini, 2004 Provides critical and biographical essays on English writers from parts of the former British Empire A New History of England and Great Britain John Miller Dow Meiklejohn, 1897 An Empire Nowhere Jeffrey Knapp, 2021-01-08 What caused England's literary renaissance One answer has been such unprecedented developments as the European discovery of America Yet England in the sixteenth century was far from an expanding nation Not only did the Tudors lose England's sole remaining possessions on the Continent and thanks to the Reformation grow spiritually divided from the Continent as well but every one of their attempts to colonize the New World actually failed Jeffrey Knapp accounts for this strange combination of literary expansion and national isolation by showing how the English made a virtue of their increasing insularity Ranging across a wide array of literary and extraliterary sources Knapp argues that English poets rejected the worldly acquisitiveness of an empire like Spain's and took pride in England's material limitations as a sign of its spiritual strength In the imaginary worlds of such fictions as Utopia The Faerie Queene and The Tempest they sought a grander empire founded on the otherworldly virtues of both England and poetry itself This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices

Britain's Killing Fields John Igbino, 2023-01-19 Britain kept meticulous records of its casualties in Southern Nigeria but it did not collect and keep any coherent records of the casualties it inflicted on the so called natives Britain's failure to collect and keep natives casualty statistics was not an unconscious omission Instead it was a deliberate policy because it placed considerably less value on the lives of natives compared to European lives It held that a drop of European blood was worth four times more than natives blood The death of a District Officer on active duty was worth the lives of up to two hundred natives and it took twenty natives to service a Political Officer on the field Additionally it accepted the arguments of its top commander Colonel Arthur Montanaro that natives were engaged in illegal resistance to His Majesty's Government therefore while he had a duty to crush their resistance to the British Government he was not duty bound to account for their deaths Accordingly the book explores these untold aspects of British History particularly the computation of the number of Indigenous people of the landmass which became Southern Nigeria who were killed between 1900 and 1930 during one of the bloodiest periods in the history of Southern Nigeria as British troops of the West African Frontier Force WAFF and the West African Service Brigade WASB rampaged through Southern Nigeria In its explorations the book posed and addressed the following questions how many Indigenous people of Southern Nigeria were killed by the British Army between 1900 and 1930 What were the names of the people who were killed Were there women and children among the dead How old were they when they died Where were they buried Who buried them there What were the prevailing political circumstances when they were killed Under what military circumstances were they killed Was there a state of war between the Indigenous people of Southern Nigeria and Britain when they were killed The book's sources were unpublished original archival documents at the National Archives These document sources included Ordinances Proclamations Admiralty's and Crown Agents papers High Commissioners Governor General's and Lieutenant Governor's Correspondences and Despatches The Correspondences and Despatches included field reports compiled by British Army Officers Field Commanders British Police Commissioners Political Officers District Officers DO District Commissioners Divisional Officers Divisional Commissioners and Provincial Commissioners These sources are kept in the following Colonial Office Documents series Southern Nigeria CO520 series and Nigeria CO583 series
