Robinson, 1971      Introduction to the New Testament Helmut Koester, 1995 This work has established itself as a classical text in the field of New Testament studies Written in a readable non technical style it has become an indispensable textbook and reference for teachers students clergy and the educated layperson interested in a scholarly treatment of the New Testament and its background in the Judaic and Greco Roman world      The Fourth Gospel in Four Dimensions D. Moody Smith, Jr., 2021-04-28 Compelling perspectives on the Gospel of John from a premiere scholar of the subject This multidimensional volume from the leading American scholar of Johannine studies brings together D Moody Smith s germinal works from the past two decades along with some original articles published here for the first time The resulting collection augments current understanding of the Gospel of John with fresh insights and research and points the way toward opportunities for new inquiry The collection is structured around four focal issues that define contemporary studies of John In the first section Smith places the book within its Jewish milieu attempting to account for the tension between the work s seeming anti Jewishness and its familiarity with Jewish life and thought Next Smith engages the relationship between John and the historical figure of Jesus especially the extent to which John s representation of Jesus reflects knowledge of independent traditions as well as the self consciousness of his own community The third section examines John s account against the Synoptic Gospels assessing the evidence of John s access to an independent record of the passion and the possibility that John adopted the gospel genre from Mark Finally Smith explores how the Gospels and especially that of John evolved into scripture and how they have come to be interpreted in conjunction with one another      Textual Criticism and the Synoptic Problem in Historical Jesus Research Hyeon Woo Shin, 2004 The criteria for originality priority and authenticity used in textual criticism the study of the Synoptic Problem and historical Jesus research share one basic similarity they were all designed to distinguish a prior tradition from its later developments All these areas of research investigate the transmission process which involves both preservation and alteration The sets of criteria used in one area are thus analogous to the sets of criteria used in the other two areas This assumption can be confirmed by observing numerous instances of such similarity in these sets of criteria On the basis of this assumption many other instances of similarity may be newly attained by adapting the set of criteria used in one area for use in the other two areas The sets of criteria for these three areas of research can be further generalized into a mother set of criteria which will provide us with a degree of methodological unification in these disciplines

The Future of Economic History Alexander J. Field, 2012-12-06 This collection represents a modest attempt to chart a new course for the intellectual discipline known as economic history The book is not about productivity growth in the 1990s lest the title give rise to any confusion As a group these essays suggest new and potentially fruitful areas or approaches for research and at the same time address weaknesses in past efforts One important audience will be graduate students attempting to decide whether to write a dissertation in economic history or trying to select or refine dissertation topics in the area and determine how to approach them Some of the essays will most certainly be appropriate additions to the or semester courses in economic history that remain a fixture in quarter graduate economics training programs A second audience should be established scholars who are now or have in the past done research in economic history and are interested in the perspectives of a relatively younger group of scholars The term younger is used here advisedly to describe a group of scholars born between 1943 and 1954 Nevertheless the authors of these essays can on at least one dimension be distinguished from the pathbreaking new economic historians who established their academic reputations in the early 1960s Indeed the contributors to this volume include students of such pioneers as Richard Easterlin Albert Fishlow William Parker and Jeffrey Williamson
