Integrated cardiovascular and neural system processes as potential mechanisms of behavior change Marsha E. Bates,David Eddie,Paul M. Lehrer,Robert Nolan,Martin Siepmann,2023-04-24 The adaptive brain. 2. Vision, speech, language and motor control Stephen Grossberg,1987 Improving outcomes in cerebral palsy with early intervention: new translational approaches Anna Purna Basu,Gavin John Clowry,2015-03-30 The aim of this Research Topic was to collate articles describing prediction of outcomes of pre and perinatal lesions leading to cerebral palsy basic research in animal models and human subjects and ideas for and trials of interventions in the first two years of life CP arises from insults to the sensorimotor cortex subcortical axon tracts and subplate The aetiology is complex and often multifactorial The outcome is not simply a loss of voluntary control due to disruption of descending pathways but also involves abnormal development of reflex and corticospinal circuitry CP may be viewed as aberrant plasticity in response to a lesion indeed abnormalities in movement are subtle at first but develop subsequently It is misleading to suppose that developmental mechanisms are self reparative The challenge is to understand activitydependent fine tuning of neural circuitry during normal development and to find how to promote desirable plasticity whilst limiting undesirable effects following developmental lesions However before proposing interventions we have to develop our ability to predict the severity of neonatal insults We solicited a variety of articles including long and short reviews original research and opinion pieces from both basic scientists and clinicians Likewise we as editors have complementary knowledge and experience in this area Anna Basu is an academic pediatric neurologist and Gavin Clowry is a developmental neuroscientist The Cybernetic Brain Andrew Pickering,2010-04-15 Cybernetics is often thought of as a grim military or industrial science of control But as Andrew Pickering reveals in this beguiling book a much more lively and experimental strain of cybernetics can be traced from the 1940s to the present The Cybernetic Brain explores a largely forgotten group of British thinkers including Grey Walter Ross Ashby Gregory Bateson R D Laing Stafford Beer and Gordon Pask and their singular work in a dazzling array of fields Psychiatry engineering management politics music architecture education tantric yoga the Beats and the sixties counterculture all come into play as Pickering follows the history of cybernetics impact on the world from contemporary robotics and complexity theory to the Chilean economy under Salvador Allende What underpins this fascinating history Pickering contends is a shared but unconventional vision of the world as ultimately unknowable a place where genuine novelty is always emerging And thus Pickering avers the history of cybernetics provides us with an imaginative model of open ended experimentation in stark opposition to the modern urge to achieve domination over nature and each other Selling with Stories Anurag Kumar, Rob Stenberg,2025-12-16 Stories build trust And trust wins Great salespeople don t just present facts they make people feel They move prospects from uncertainty to confidence from hesitation to action from hearing a pitch to believing in a partnership Slides and figures may explain but they rarely inspire What wins trust sparks influence and moves decisions is something far more powerful stories Selling with Stories Your Journey to Influence Connection and Trust shows you how Drawing on nearly seven decades of combined sales and leadership experience blended with insights from neuroscience and psychology Anurag Kumar and Rob Stenberg reveal the timeless art of business storytelling This is a journey that transforms influence into connection connection into trust and trust into results Because stories don t just close deals they open hearts More than a sales playbook this book redefines how influence is built today through stories told with empathy adapted with skill and tended with care It is a masterpiece for sales professionals ready to elevate their craft and create stories their customers will never forget stories they will trust remember and act upon Inside you ll discover how to Open doors with empathy and emotional intelligence Turn complications into catalysts for change Create turning points that inspire clarity and action Deliver resolutions that transform uncertainty into confidence Anchor stories in ways your customers never forget Practice story tending listening so deeply that clients feel heard understood and ready to trust My hope for you in reading Selling with Stories is that you ll learn to consciously connect with the people who matter most in sales and in life The power of story isn t limited to prospects It builds trust with partners children colleagues and friends When you master storytelling you don t just become a more effective salesperson you become a better human being Mike Bosworth bestselling author Closing the Loop on Neuromodulation for Neurological Diseases Doris D.
