Gordon Dryden, Jeannette Vos, 2008 All of us together are going through the most profound revolution in human history Its impact is personal national global and in many ways unlimited This new networked age makes it urgent to rethink entirely what we mean by education learning teaching and schooling Now the world is your classroom and learning is lifelong There are seven keys to unlock the new revolution in that it s personal interactive global instant mainly free easily shared and co operative Dutch born Canadian educationalist Jeannette Voss is a well known international keynote conference presenter with a whole person approach to learning Gordon Dryden is well known in New Zealand from his time as a journalist and radio host and lately for his interest in the use of technology for the benefit of education This book is a sequel to Voss and Dryden s 2003 bestseller THE LEARNING REVOLUTION Learning for a Living?

Karen Evans, 2003 The political consensus on lifelong learning that marked the end of the twentieth century fundamentally reshaped discourses on the role of lifelong learning In a knowledge driven economy in which work is the new consumption we are engaged in a lifelong competition for livelihoods learning for the living The lecture argues first that a learning revolution that reinforces inequalities and increases the gap between the powerful and the powerless is not a revolution that popular beliefs in meritocracy and the openness of opportunities to all could evaporate very quickly as it becomes apparent that the qualifications chase eventually becomes a zero sum game for all but the most advantaged Finally re establishing the relationship between education and real life will mean linking learning for a living to wider social purposes Demands that people should take more control of their lives have to be matched with expanded social entitlements as a minimum condition for a learning revolution worthy of the name
