The Red Lily Anatole France,1926 The Red Lily Anatole France,1898 The Red Lily Anatole France,2008-03-01

Anatole France 1844 1924 born Francois Anatole Thibault was a French author He studied at the College Stanislas and after graduation he helped his father by working at his bookstore After several years he secured the position of a cataloguer at Bachelin Deflorenne and at Lemerre and in 1876 he was appointed a librarian for the French Senate He became known after the publication of The Crime of Sylvestre Bonnard 1881 Along with Emile Zola he became involved in the Alfred Dreyfus affair He signed Zola s manifesto publicly condemning the indictment of treason against Dreyfus a Jewish army captain who was being scapegoated to protect corrupt officials in the army In 1901 France wrote about the affair in his book Monsieur Bergeret He was elected to the French Academy in 1896 and was awarded the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1921 His later works include The Procurator of Judea 1902 Penguin Island 1908 and The Revolt of the Angels 1914 The red lily (Le lys rouge) : crowned by the French academy Anatole France,1905 The Red Lily (Complete) Anatole France,2020-09-28 She gave a glance at the armchairs placed before the chimney at the tea table which shone in the shade and at the tall pale stems of flowers ascending above Chinese vases She thrust her hand among the flowery branches of the guelder roses to make their silvery balls quiver Then she looked at herself in a mirror with serious attention She held herself sidewise her neck turned over her shoulder to follow with her eyes the spring of her fine form in its sheath like black satin gown around which floated a light tunic studded with pearls wherein sombre lights scintillated She went nearer curious to know her face of that day The mirror returned her look with tranquillity as if this amiable woman whom she examined and who was not displeasing to her lived without either acute joy or profound sadness On the walls of the large drawing room empty and silent the figures of the tapestries vague as shadows showed pallid among their antique games and dying graces Like them the terra cotta statuettes on slender columns the groups of old Saxony and the paintings of Sevres spoke of past glories On a pedestal ornamented with precious bronzes the marble bust of some princess royal disguised as Diana appeared about to fly out of her turbulent drapery while on the ceiling a figure of Night powdered like a marquise and surrounded by cupids sowed flowers Everything was asleep and only the crackling of the logs and the light rattle of Therese s pearls could be heard Turning from the mirror she lifted the corner of a curtain and saw through the window beyond the dark trees of the quay the Seine spreading its yellow reflections Weariness of the sky and of the water was reflected in her fine gray eyes The boat passed the Hironnelle emerging from an arch of the Alma Bridge and carrying humble travellers toward Grenelle and Billancourt She followed it with her eyes then let the curtain fall and seating herself under the flowers took a book from the table On the straw colored linen cover shone the title in gold Yseult la Blonde by Vivian Bell It was a collection of French verses composed by an Englishwoman and printed in London She read indifferently waiting for visitors and thinking less of the poetry than of the poetess Miss Bell who was perhaps her most agreeable friend and whom she almost never saw who at every one of their meetings which were so rare kissed her calling her darling and babbled who plain yet seductive almost ridiculous yet wholly exquisite lived at Fiesole like a philosopher while England celebrated her as her most beloved poet Like Vernon Lee and like Mary Robinson she had fallen in love with the life and art of Tuscany and without even finishing her Tristan the first part of which had inspired in Burne Jones dreamy aquarelles she wrote Provencal verses and French poems expressing Italian ideas She had sent her Yseult la Blonde to Darling with a letter inviting her to spend a month with her at Fiesole She had written Come you will see the most beautiful things in the world and you will embellish them The Red Lily (Classic Reprint) Anatole France,2017-12-22 Excerpt from The Red Lily Criticism appears to Anatole France the most recent and possibly the ultimate evolution of literary expression admirably suited to a highly civilized society rich in souvenirs and old traditions It proceeds in his opinion from philosophy and history and demands for its development an absolute intellectual liberty It is the last in date of all literary forms and it will end by absorbing them all To be perfectly frank the critic should say gentlemen I propose to enlarge upon my own thoughts concerning Shakespeare Racine Pascal Goethe or any other writer About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works The Red Lily Anatole France,2013-06 Unlike some other reproductions of classic texts 1 We have not used OCR Optical Character Recognition as this leads to bad quality books with introduced typos 2 In books where there are images such as portraits maps sketches etc We have endeavoured to keep the quality of these images so they represent accurately the original artefact Although occasionally there may be certain imperfections with these old texts we feel they deserve to be made available for future generations to enjoy The Red Lily - Volume 02 Anatole France,2018 The Red Lily Volume 02 by Anatole France is a rare manuscript the original residing in some of the great libraries of the world This book is a reproduction of that original typed out and formatted to perfection allowing new generations to enjoy the work Publishers of the Valley's mission is to bring long out of print manuscripts back to life The Red Lily Anatole France,1905 The Embattled Self Leonard V. Smith,2014-07-03 How did the soldiers in the trenches of the Great War understand and explain battlefield experience and themselves through that experience Situated at the intersection of military history and cultural history The Embattled Self draws on the testimony of French combatants to explore how combatants came to terms with the war In order to do so they used a variety of narrative tools at hand rites of passage mastery a character of the soldier as a consenting citizen of the Republic None of the resulting versions of the story provided a completely consistent narrative and all raised more questions about the truth of experience than they answered Eventually a story revolving around tragedy and the soldier as victim came to dominate even to silence other types of accounts In thematic chapters Leonard V Smith explains why the novel structured by a specific notion of trauma prevailed by the 1930s Smith canvasses the vast literature of nonfictional and fictional testimony from French soldiers to understand how and why the embattled self changed over time In the process he undermines the conventional understanding of the war as tragedy and its soldiers as victims a view that has dominated both scholarly and popular opinion since the interwar period The book is important reading not only for traditional historians of warfare but also for scholars in a variety of fields who think critically about trauma and the use of personal testimony in literary and historical studies

The Preacher's Complete Homiletical Commentary ,1892 A Moral Military Sidney Axinn,2009 In this new edition of the classic book on the moral conduct of war Sidney Axinn provides a full length treatment of the military conventions from a philosophical point of view Axinn considers these basic ethical questions within the context of the laws of warfare Should a good soldier ever disobey a direct military order Are there restrictions on how we fight a war What is meant by military honor and does it really affect the contemporary soldier Is human dignity possible under battlefield conditions Axinn answers yes to these questions His objective in A Moral Military is to establish a basic framework for moral military action and to assist in analyzing military professional ethics He argues for the seriousness of the concept of military honor but limits honorable military activity by a strict interpretation of the notion of war crime With revisions and expansions throughout including a new chapter on torture A Moral Military is an essential guide on the nature of war during a time when the limits of acceptable behavior are being stretched in new directions
