Women Who Censor:

Women who Censor, 2000 Women who Censor Ursula Owen, 1999 Examines the changing attitudes of feminist movements from the 1970s onwards especially with regards to the censorship of violence and pornography in various media In this edition Index steps into the fierce debate between women who do and women who don't approve of suppressive measures Women Against Censorship Varda Burstyn, 1985 Recoge la opinion de algunas feministas sobre si lo mas conveniente para la mujer es que se censure o no la pornografia Women and Missions, 1926 The Women's Trade Union Review, 1913 Censoring Racial Ridicule M. Alison Kibler, 2015-03-05 A drunken Irish maid slips and falls A greedy Jewish pawnbroker lures his female employee into prostitution An African American man leers at a white woman These and other similar images appeared widely on stages and screens across America during the early twentieth century In this provocative study M Alison Kibler uncovers for the first time powerful and concurrent campaigns by Irish Jewish and African Americans against racial ridicule in popular culture at the turn of the twentieth century Censoring Racial Ridicule explores how Irish Jewish and African American groups of the era resisted harmful representations in popular culture by lobbying behind the scenes boycotting particular acts and staging theater riots Kibler demonstrates that these groups tactics evolved and diverged over time with some continuing to pursue street protest while others sought redress through new censorship laws Exploring the relationship between free expression democracy and equality in America Kibler shows that the Irish Jewish and African American campaigns against racial ridicule are at the roots of contemporary debates over hate speech

Women and the City's Work Woman's Municipal League (New York, N.Y.), 1919 Harper's New Monthly Magazine, 1890 Race, Gender, and Film Censorship in Virginia, 1922-1965 Melissa Ooten, 2014-12-18 This book chronicles the history of movie censorship in Virginia from the 1920s to 1960s At its most basic level it analyzes the project of state film censorship in Virginia It uses the contestations surrounding film censorship as a framework for more fully understanding the dominant political economic and cultural hierarchies that structured Virginia and much of the New South in the mid twentieth century and ways in which citizens contested these prevailing structures This study highlights the centrality of gendered and racialized discourses in the debates over the movies and the broader regulatory power of the state It particularly emphasizes ways in which issues of race class gender and sexuality framed debates over popular culture in the South It ties the regulation of racial and sexual boundaries in other areas such as public facilities schools public transportation the voting booth and residential housing to ways in which censors regulated those same boundaries in popular culture This book shows how the same racialized and gendered social norms and legal codes that placed audience members in different theater spaces also informed ways in which what they viewed on screen had been mediated by state officials Ultimately this study shows how Virginia's officials attempted to use the project of film censorship as the cultural arm of regulation to further buttress the state's political and economic hierarchies of the time period and the ways in various citizens and community groups supported and challenged these hierarchies across the censorship board's forty three year history

A Father to His Freshman Son Edward Sandford Martin,1918 Lord's Day Leader ,1918 The Lord's Day Alliance of the United States was founded in 1888 That year representatives of six major Protestant denominations met in Washington D C and organized the American Sabbath Union This name was later changed to the Lord's Day Alliance The Alliance is the only national organization whose sole purpose is the maintenance and cultivation of the first day of the week as a time for rest worship Christian education and spiritual renewal

Exhibitors Daily Review ,1923 Nickelodeon ,1915 Agitate, Educate, Organise, Legislate Ellen Warne,2017-07-17 After successfully agitating for the vote for women from the 1890s Protestant women's organisations in Australia began to educate women at a grassroots level on effective ways of applying political pressure on a wide range of topics and social concerns Positioning their organisations as non party political and separate from more overtly feminist groups the Woman's Christian Temperance Union WCTU the Young Women's Christian Association YWCA and the Mothers Union attracted women who were keen to work for change and who were seeking to save the individual as well as the greater society These three organisations sought to agitate on a wide range of issues related to girls and women connecting with public anxieties and highlighting particular vulnerabilities of girls and young women who lived alone in the city and had the potential to be exploited in the workforce By the 1920s and 1930s these women's groups noted with concern the easier access to divorce and birth control in the Soviet Union and the growing influence of both Communism and Hitlerism in galvanising young people

Agitate Educate Organise Legislate explores the colourful debates and anxieties that were prevalent from the 1890s to the 1930s and the responses of the key women's organisations whose leadership and campaigns acknowledged that outside of parliament and party politics women's connection to political matters could be both innovative and socially influential

Herald and Presbyter ,1914 General Federation of Women's Clubs Magazine ,1916 Life John Ames Mitchell,1914 Life ,1914 An Almanack for the Year of Our Lord ... Joseph Whitaker,1929 The Little Mother of the Slums Emily Herey Denison,1915
