Womens Reality:

Women's Reality Anne Wilson Schaef, 1991 In this pivotal work the bestselling author of Co Dependence provides the understanding women need to enhance self awareness and clarifies what it means to be a woman living in a male dominated society which is often at odds with the way women feel

Black Women's Portrayals on Reality Television Donnetrice C. Allison, 2016-01-14 This book critically analyzes the portrayals of Black women in current reality television Audiences are presented with a multitude of images of Black women fighting arguing and cursing at one another in this manufactured world of reality television This perpetuation of negative insidious racial and gender stereotypes influences how the U S views Black women This stereotyping disrupts the process in which people are able to appreciate cultural and gender difference Instead of celebrating the diverse symbols and meaning making that accompanies Black women s discourse and identities reality television scripts an artificial or plastic image of Black women that reinforces extant stereotypes This collection s contributors seek to uncover examples in reality television shows where instantiations of Black women s gendered racial and cultural difference is signified and made sinister

Women, Knowledge, and Reality Ann Garry, Marilyn Pearsall, 2015-07-17 This second edition of Women Knowledge and Reality continues to exhibit the ways in which feminist philosophers enrich and challenge philosophy Essays by twenty five feminist philosophers seventeen of them new to the second edition address fundamental issues in philosophical and feminist methods metaphysics epistemology and the philosophies of science language religion and mind body This second edition expands the perspectives of women of color of postmodernism and French feminism and focuses on the most recent controversies in feminist theory and philosophy The chapters are organized by traditional fields of philosophy and include introductions which contrast the ideas of feminist thinkers with traditional philosophers The collected essays illustrate both the depth and breadth of feminist critiques and the range of contemporary feminist theoretical perspectives

Claiming Reality Louise Levesque-Lopman, 1988-10-11 An important yet little explored area of feminist research is women s subjective experience of everyday life Claiming Reality is the first study to apply the insights of the growing discipline of phenomenological sociology to women s experience particularly the experience of childbirth in an attempt to develop a feminist phenomenological perspective

Narrative, Social Myth and Reality in Contemporary Scottish and Irish Women's Writing Tudor Balinisteanu, 2009-10-02 This book offers an original interdisciplinary analysis of the relations between myth identity and social reality involving elements of narratology theory linguistics philosophy anthropology and social theory harnessed to support an argument firmly located in the area of literary criticism This analysis yields a fairly extensive reinterpretation of the concept of myth which is applied to the examination of the relationship between narrative and social reality as represented in texts by contemporary Scottish and Irish women writers The main theoretical sources are Mikhail Bakhtin s theories of heteroglossia Jacques Derrida s theories of citationality and Judith Butler s theories of subjectivity The analysis framework developed in the book uses these theories to create a new way of understanding how literary texts change readers worldviews by enticing them to accept alternative possibilities of cultural expression of identity and social order The texts analysed in this book reconfigure naturalised stories that have become normative and constraining in conveying identities and visions of legitimate social orders The book s focus on feminine identities places it alongside feminist analyses of reconstructions of fairy tales myths or canonical stories that establish what counts as legitimate feminine identity Studied here for the first time together the writers whose texts form the interest of this book continue the revisionist work begun by other women writers who engage with the male generated literary philosophical and humanist tradition They share a view of narratives as tools for continually negotiating our identities social worlds and socialisation scenarios While the high level theoretical discourse of the first part of the book requires specialised knowledge the second part of the book offering close readings of the texts is both lively and accessible and should engage the interest of the general reader and academic alike This book is written for all those who are interested in the power words have to hold sway over our inner and outer social worlds

Reality George A. Sanders,1898 Women in the World, 1975-1985 Lynne B. Iglitzin,Ruth A. Ross,1986 The 1976 edition of Women in the World assessed centuries of women s history In this new edition the authors focus on the ten year period following the 1976 publication 1975 1985 hence its subtitle The Women s Decade Here writers of both sexes provide facts statistics graphs and personal observations candidly revealing their findings and evaluations to the researcher scholar student and the general public Back Cover

Reality,1925 Women Changing Work Patricia W. Lunneborg,1990-04-23 This is a study of women s behavior in the workplace Based on more than 200 interviews Documents the unique ways that feminists have predicted and percieved that women would perform men s jobs It presents three viewpoints those of the literature the views of the women interviewed and the views of the author

Magazine of the Women's City Club Women's City Club of Detroit,1927 Folklore Women's Communication,1988 Issue for spring 1993 includes a Membership directory for the Women s Section of the American Folklore Society

Romance and Reality Holbrook Jackson,1912 Miss E. M. S. on Women's Suffrage. Speech, etc E. M. STURGE,1872 Women and Work Marjie C. Barrett,LaVerne Knezek,Sheila K. Collins,1985 The Romance of Reality Margaret LeBoutillier O'Connell,1912 Doing Research on Women's Communication Kathryn Carter,Carole Spitzack,1989 A critique of conventional approaches to communication research the authors argue that the impact of gender on research practive has been ignored By exploring gender issues and conducting applied research in the areas of mass and interpersonal communication therapeutic interaction and rhetoric they critique traditional scholarship and offer novel alternatives The authors take intact theories and methods and show their applicability or lack thereof to the study of women s communication The adaptations allow researchers to conduct more accurate sensitive and theoretically sound analyses of womens communication than those promoted by traditional paradigms
