Special Bibliography Series ,1957 Technology, Strategy and National Security Franklin D. Margiotta,Ralph Sanders,1985 Arms Control and Technological Innovation David Carlton,Carlo Schaerf,2024-11-02 First published in 1977 Arms Control and Technological Innovation is primarily concerned with three subjects the causes of the arms race the consequences of the arms race to the world and the control of the arms race Written by experts in the field it brings themes like new technologies and new weapon systems new tactics to replace tactical nuclear weapons in Europe the Anglo American nuclear relationship strategic arms limitation and military strategic concepts and a new approach to strategic arms limitation and reduction The book argues that the principal problem of the arms race according to several lectures is that weapons and delivery systems technology have developed so much as to threaten the survival of civilization itself The pace of technological change is proceeding more rapidly than ever before and there is serious doubt whether political institutions are adapting to this change in time to avoid devastating consequences to the world This book is a must read for scholars and researchers of military and strategic studies international relations international politics and geopolitics The Cumulative Book Index ,1989 A world list of books in the English language

Integrated Arms Control in an Era of Strategic Competition Rebecca K.C. Hersman, Heather Williams, Suzanne Claeys, 2022-05-12 Can contemporary arms control keep pace with the rapid rate of change in both geopolitics and technology While the challenges to future arms control point to a rocky road ahead measures that build confidence reduce miscalculation enhance transparency restrain costly and dangerous military competition and offer useful mechanisms and venues for addressing sources of conflict will be of increasing value For arms control tools to succeed however they must be adapted to the current security environment account for rapidly evolving technological and informational factors and consider alternative structures modalities and participation models Indeed now is the time for a recoupling of arms control with deterrence in a way that recognizes these new realities Now is the time for integrated arms control that enhances stability embraces plurality and reinforces resiliency This CSIS study examines the implication and prospects for the future of arms control in a highly competitive security environment in which challenges from advanced technologies and diminished state control over processes of verification become increasingly prominent features even as the scope and modalities of arms control grow more complex and multifaceted The report offers a reexamination of the broad contours of arms control and its role in managing competitive security risks and challenges and the implications for U S policymakers academics and strategic thinkers engaged in U S nuclear policy

Military Technology, Military Strategy and the Arms Race Marek Thee,2025-03-03 First published in 1986 Military Technology Military Strategy and the Arms Race argues that a principal factor contributing to the arms race is the military research and development R and D sector It traces the arms race since World War II and explores the relationship between the emergence of new weapon technology the development of new weapon systems and their impact on strategic thinking It considers the positions for both the United States and its allies in NATO and for the erstwhile Soviet Union It argues that military R and D which consumes an increasing proportion of total funds spent on R and D has developed a self sustaining technological momentum which is baked by a powerful military industrial bureaucratic technological complex and is increasingly out of control of political leaders The book argues that negotiations to limit the numbers of weapons fail to address the main problem and that more emphasis should be given to considering ways of limiting and controlling military R and D It concludes by proposing a radical shift in policy to achieve this This historical reference work is important for scholars and researchers of military studies defence studies international relations diplomacy and international politics
