Echenique, Janet Owers, 1975 Theories and Models of Urbanization Denise Pumain, 2020-01-02 This book provides a thorough discussion about fundamental questions regarding urban theories and modeling. It is a curated collection of contributions to a workshop held in Paris on October 12th and 13th 2017 at the Institute of Complex Systems by the team of ERC GeoDiverCity. There are several chapters conveying the answers given by single authors to problems of conceptualization and modeling and others in which scholars reply to their conception and question them. Even the chapters transcribing keynote presentations were rewritten according to contributions from the respective discussions. The result is a complete state of the art of what is our knowledge about urban processes and their possible formalization. Urban Development Models: New Tools for Planning Britton Harris, 1965 Seven Models of Urban Development Ira S.

Lowry, Rand Corporation, 1967 Attempts to develop quantitative models of the spatial aspects of urban development for use as planning tools hardly antedate 1960. Since then there have been innumerable prospectuses, many serious enterprises and at least a few substantial accomplishments. The model builders, a group that overlaps but doesn't coincide with the planning profession, claim that their brain children have present or potential value as planning aids. One of the frustrations of the planner as client is that he doesn't usually find it easy to judge these claims or to choose among the many alternatives now available for his consideration. In this essay the author shows how a number of these models relate to each other and to a generally accepted theory of the market for urban land. The undertaking involves some risk of misrepresentation since only two of the specific models discussed are adequately and finally documented. China's Development Under a Differential

Urbanization Model Qiang Li, 2019-08-01 This book analyses the particular nature, characteristics and current conditions of urbanization in China.
