Time By Chanel:

Chanel's Riviera Anne De Courcy, 2020-02-11 In this captivating narrative Chanel's Riviera explores the fascinating world of the Cote d'Azur during a period that saw the deepest extremes of luxury and terror in the twentieth century. The Cote d'Azur in 1938 was a world of wealth, luxury, and extravagance inhabited by a sparkling cast of characters including the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, Joseph P. Kennedy, Gloria Swanson, Colette, the Mitfords, Picasso, Cecil Beaton, and Somerset Maugham. The elite flocked to the Riviera each year to swim, gamble, and escape from the turbulence plaguing the rest of Europe. At the glittering center of it all was Coco Chanel, whose very presence at her magnificently appointed villa La Pausa made it the ultimate place to be. Born an orphan, her beauty and formidable intelligence allured many men, but it was her incredible talent, relentless work ethic, and exquisite taste that made her an icon. But this wildly seductive world was poised on the edge of destruction. In a matter of months, France surrendered to the Germans, and the glamour of the pre-war parties and casinos gave way to the horrors of evacuation and the displacement of thousands of families during World War II. From the bitter struggle to survive emerged powerful stories of tragedy, sacrifice, and heroism. Enriched by original research and de Courcy's signature skill, Chanel's Riviera brings the experiences of both rich and poor, protected and persecuted, to vivid life.

"You Are The Father" Michelle Harbin, 2012-01-13 The book is based on a true story; most of the names were changed to protect the innocent. This dynamic, intriguing novel will capture the minds of readers from Detroit to the entire east coast of America. From the past to the present, a young teenager named Chanel Harrington tries to find her worth as she struggles to make a better life for herself and her younger brother. They are both caught up in a world of drugs, death, and dealers. Chanel escapes the hardcore streets of Detroit and lands in Washington DC, better known as Dodge City. Her life takes a drastic change as she learns the Jamaican way of living. Chanel falls in love with a dreadlocked Rastafarian named William Done, AKA Goldie. Chanel flies back and forth to Washington DC and still continues to sleep with Goldie because she is still in love with him, in spite of him living with his children's mother, Hanna Benson, and her living with another man named Peter in Texas. Goldie and Chanel eventually leave both their partners, Hanna and Peter, to give their love a try. One man named Goldie, with 13 children by 7 different women, tries to settle down with one of them, which is Chanel, but his former children's mother, Hanna, constantly interferes with their relationship. Hanna gives Goldie and Chanel pure hell, and he gives her hope that he will come back to her by still sleeping in her bed. She gets pregnant, and Goldie will not admit that he is the father. The games William plays with Chanel, and Hanna catches up with him in the long run, and the battle for him gets ugly. Hell has no fury like the other woman scorned. Chanel and Goldie's relationship becomes unhealthy on a roller coaster that takes the readers along for the ride.

Time Briton Hadden, Henry Robinson Luce, 1960 Time by Chanel Gregory Pons, 2003-09 As she had no time to lose, Mademoiselle Chanel chose to take her time. Born at the end of the 19th century, she quickly guessed that the 20th century was there for the taking. She wanted to make it her time to be involved in her period. Young Gabrielle Chanel didn't wear a watch. She lived her life and her time as she created them in the most naive contempt of appropriateness and common practices: the hours didn't have the same length for her as for those close to her, whom, as a result, sometimes suffered. She already understood that the watch, a key object in the century of speed, should be solid, ordinary, and fine. The post-war years confirmed her taste for large Swiss watches worn with white bracelets that she often offered to her friends. Is it really a coincidence that she first wanted to live in Switzerland, the world's cradle in watch making, when Paris no longer recognized her before making Lausanne her last dwelling place?
