Warship Identification:

Warship Identification Eric Charles Talbot-Booth, David G. Greenman, 1971 Jane's Warships Recognition Guide 3e Anthony J. Watts, 2003-05-01 Provides a guide to warships around the world including photographs key recognition features technical data line diagrams and the weapon systems and radars found on each ship British Warship Recognition: The Perkins Identification Albums Richard Perkins, 2017-03-31 The Richard Perkins warship identification albums form one of the most detailed studies ever undertaken of the changes to the appearance of Royal Navy ships However it is a unique hand drawn manuscript artifact in the care of the National Maritime Museum so despite its value it is rarely seen by anyone besides the museum s curators for whom it is a precious resource used on an almost daily basis In collaboration with the Museum Seaforth is undertaking the first publication of this monumental work in a superbly produced multi volume edition that captures all the qualities of the original Every page is reproduced at full size making the extensive handwritten annotation readable while the fine line drawings retain all the colors that Perkins used to denote appearance differences and alterations Following the Museum s binding arrangement the third volume of the series is the first half of the coverage of all cruisers from the Amazon class corvettes of 1865 to the Belfast class of 1939 the second half constitutes Volume IV Highlights of this first part include armored cruisers the so called large light cruisers and the cruisers of the inter war period This is a publishing event of the utmost importance for every enthusiast and ship modeler who for the first time will be able to own a copy of a unique and invaluable reference work Warship Identification Manual United States. Bureau of Naval Personnel, 1955 British Warship Recognition Richard Perkins, 2018-01-15 The Richard Perkins warship identification albums form one of the most detailed studies ever undertaken of the changes to the appearance of Royal Navy ships The publication of this monumental work in a superbly produced multi volume edition that captures all the qualities of the original Every page is reproduced at full size making the extensive handwritten annotation readable while the fine line drawings retain all the colors that Perkins used to denote appearance differences and alterations The fifth volume of the series is largely devoted to surface craft whose primary weapon was the torpedo destroyers and their flotilla leaders 1st and 2nd class torpedo boats coastal motor boats and motor torpedo boats it also includes the Great War era P boats and the motor anti submarine boats of the late 1930s This is a publishing event of the utmost importance for every enthusiast and ship modeler who for the first time will be able to own a copy of a unique and invaluable reference work British Warship Recognition: The Perkins Identification Albums Richard Perkins, 2017-06-30 The Richard Perkins warship identification albums form one of the most detailed studies ever undertaken of the changes to the appearance of Royal Navy ships However it is a unique hand drawn manuscript artefact in the care of the National Maritime Museum so despite its value it is rarely seen by anyone besides the museum s curators for whom it is a precious resource used on an almost daily basis In collaboration with the Museum Seaforth is undertaking the first publication of this monumental work in a superbly produced multi volume edition that captures all the qualities of the original Every page is reproduced at full size making the extensive hand written annotation readable while the fine line drawings retain all the colours that Perkins used to denote appearance differences and alterations Following the Museum s binding arrangement the fourth volume of the series completes the coverage of all cruiser type ships down to the Belfast class of 1939 begun in Volume III This second part includes most of the smaller cruisers from about 1916 back to the Amazon class corvettes of 1865 This is a publishing event of the utmost importance for every enthusiast and ship modeller who for the first time will be able to own a copy of a unique and invaluable reference work British Warship Recognition: The Perkins Identification Albums Richard Perkins,2018-02-28 The Richard Perkins warship identification albums form one of the most detailed studies ever undertaken of the changes to the appearance of Royal Navy ships However it is a unique hand drawn manuscript artefact in the care of the National Maritime Museum so despite its value it is rarely seen by anyone besides the museum s curators for whom it is a precious resource used on an almost daily basis In collaboration with the Museum Seaforth is undertaking the first publication of this monumental work in a superbly produced multi volume edition that captures all the qualities of the original Every page is reproduced at full size making the extensive hand written annotation readable while the fine line drawings retain all the colours that Perkins used to denote appearance differences and alterations The sixth volume of the series covers all submarines up to 1939 torpedo gun vessels the diverse types of gunboat from masted gun vessels through coastal flat irons to river patrol craft and sloops of various descriptions This is a publishing event of the utmost importance for every enthusiast and ship modeller who for the first time will be able to own a copy of a unique and invaluable reference work

Warship International ,1990 British Warship Recognition Richard Perkins,2017-06-14 The Richard Perkins warship identification albums form one of the most detailed studies ever undertaken of the changes to the appearance of Royal Navy ships In collaboration with the National Maritime Museum the publication of this monumental work in a superbly produced multi volume edition captures all the qualities of the original Every page is reproduced at full size making the extensive hand written annotation readable while the fine line drawings retain all the colors that Perkins used to denote appearance differences and alterations This second part includes most of the smaller cruisers from about 1916 back to the Amazon class corvettes of 1865 British Warship Recognition Richard Perkins,2016-04-15 In the inter war years Richard Perkins an amateur photographer and avid collector amassed one of the world s largest personal collections of warship negatives He eventually donated the collection to the National Maritime Museum where it still forms the core of the historic photos naval section While he was actively acquiring photos Perkins found that many were neither identified nor accurately dated so he began to compile an album of his own drawings which incorporated as much detail as possible on individual ships that could be amended as he discovered more information This project grew into an enormous resource covering virtually every Royal Navy ship from 1860 to 1939 when security restrictions forced Perkins to stop work This project material was also donated to the National Maritime Museum where it was bound into eight large folio volumes that became a key reference for the curators of historic photos but unknown and almost inaccessible to the interested public As a result the actual publication of the volumes is an event of utmost importance for every enthusiast and ship modeler These albums will be important to every enthusiast and ship modeler who will now be able to own a copy of this unique and invaluable reference work for the very first time
