Time And Eternal Change:

Time, Eternity, and the Trinity Eunsoo Kim,2010-03-01 One of the vital issues in contemporary Christian theology is the problem of a renewed understanding of God's eternity and its relation to time This is not merely a peripheral doctrinal issue but lies at the heart of our understanding of God and humanity and contributes to our entire worldview This study focuses on a long standing debate between two competing views on God's eternity one focused on God's absolute timelessness in classical theism and the other on God's temporal everlastingness in contemporary panentheism In contrast to both of these well worn options this book presents an alternative Trinitarian analogical understanding of God's eternity and its relation to time especially through a critical reflection on Karl Barth's and Hans Urs von Balthasar's engagement of the issue This analogical approach based on the dynamic and dramatic concepts of God's being in relation and of the Triune God's communicative action in eternity and time has the potential to resolve the debate between absolute timeless eternity and temporal everlasting duration

Understanding Prayer for the Dead James B. Gould,2016-08-04 Throughout history Christians have prayed for the dead both for continual growth of the faithful and for their advancement from purgatory though not for the deliverance of the unsaved from hell This book defends all three kinds of prayer It challenges Protestants who seldom pray for the dead to begin doing so and Roman Catholics and Eastern Orthodox who pray only for the Christian dead to include the unsaved as well James Gould addresses the biblical credentials of prayer for the dead and provides a historical overview of such prayers from ancient Christianity to the current practice of the three main branches of the church He also discusses the logical assumptions prayer for the dead requires that prayer is effective that the dead are conscious and that the afterlife involves change and lays out a theological framework for such prayers Prayer for the departed raises the most basic of theological questions matters that go to the center of God's purpose in creating spiritual beings and redeeming sinful humankind The argument while revisionary in some respects is orthodox ecumenical and integrative engaging a range of academic disciplines so as to be biblically accurate historically informed and philosophically reasoned

Talking about God and Talking about Creation Rahim Acar,2021-08-04 Comparing Avicenna's and Thomas Aquinas' positions regarding human knowledge this volume talks about God and the nature of the creative action and the beginning of the universe The overall argument of the book is that their conception of theological language plays an important role in shaping their positions concerning the creation of the universe In the first part their conception of the theological language and divine formal features are explored and how their positions regarding theological language differ from each other is discussed The second part includes a comparison of their conceptions of the nature of the divine creative action which provides a good example showing how their conceptions of theological language affect the way they talk about creation and their arguments concerning the beginning of the universe
