Uptown Conversation:

Uptown Conversation Robert G. O'Meally, Brent Hayes Edwards, Farah Jasmine Griffin, 2004 Uptown Conversation asserts that jazz is not only a music to define it is a culture The essays illustrate how for more than a century jazz has initiated a call and response across art forms geographies and cultures inspiring musicians filmmakers painters and poets Play the Way You Feel Kevin Whitehead, 2020 A guide to and history of movies that tell stories about jazz Play the Way You Feel looks at how on screen depictions compare to the real thing and at the often inventive ways these stories are told The Revolution Will Be Improvised Elizabeth Rodriguez Fielder, 2024-10-22 The Revolution Will Be Improvised The Intimacy of Cultural Activism traces intimate encounters between activists and local people of the civil rights movement through an archive of Black and Brown avant gardism In the 1960s Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee SNCC activists engaged with people of color working in poor communities to experiment with creative approaches to liberation through theater media storytelling and craft making With a dearth of resources and an abundance of urgency SNCC activists improvised new methods of engaging with communities that created possibilities for unexpected encounters through programs such as The Free Southern Theater El Teatro Campesino and the Poor People s Corporation Reading the output of these programs Elizabeth Rodriguez Fielder argues that intimacy making became an extension of participatory democracy In doing so Rodriguez Fielder supplants the success failure binary for understanding social movements focusing instead on how care work aligns with creative production The Revolution Will Be Improvised returns to improvisation s roots in economic and social necessity and locates it as a core tenet of the aesthetics of obligation where a commitment to others drives the production and result of creative work Thus this book puts forward a methodology to explore the improvised often ephemeral works of art activism Western Fictions, Black Realities Isabel Soto, Violet Showers Johnson, 2012-06-01 This anthology interrogates two salient concepts in studying the black experience Ushered in with the age of New World encounters modernity emerged as brutal and complex from its very definition to its manifestations Equally challenging is blackness which is forever dangling between the range of uplifting articulations and insidious degradation The essays in Western Fictions address the conflicting confluences of these two terms Questioning Eurocentric and mainstream American interpretations they reveal the diverse meanings of modernities and blackness from a wide range of milieus of the black experience Interdisciplinary and wide ranging in thematic and epochal scope they use theoretical and empirical studies of a range of subjects to demonstrate that indeed blackness is relevant for understanding modernities and vice versa The Souths in Her Nicole M. Morris Johnson, 2026-01-13 Since the Middle Passage the intellectual and physical freedom of Black women in the United States and the Caribbean has been constrained Yet Black women writers artists choreographers and performers have contested pervasive political cultural and discursive silencing by drawing on the traditions and creative visions of multiple Souths the Southern United States and the Caribbean as well as Africa In The Souths in Her a phrase borrowed from Ntozake Shange Nicole M Morris Johnson shows how key Black women artists transformed the enclosing narrative frames imposed on them developing new forms of creative expression informed by the lived experiences and submerged histories of women across the Africana southern world She analyzes the intertwined relationship between movement and writing in the works of Zora Neale Hurston Katherine Dunham Dianne McIntyre Maryse Condé and Shange among others Morris Johnson demonstrates that although the central role of motion reinforced perceptions of primitivity that relegated Black women and the South to a space outside modernity it was in fact crucial to their formal innovations For these writers and choreographers unexpected encounters with unfamiliar traditions and creative visions of multiple Souths catalyzed formal experimentation and movements for liberation Considering the violence routinely inflicted on Black women alongside their artistic innovations this book reveals a transmuted South that is rich in techniques for weaving liberatory works Illuminating Black women's singular contributions to Black modernity The Souths in Her offers new frames for understanding their embodied and textual creative expression

The Hearing Eye Graham Lock, David Murray, 2009 The widespread presence of jazz and blues in African American visual art has long been overlooked The Hearing Eye makes the case for recognizing the music's importance both as formal template and as explicit subject matter Moving on from the use of iconic musical figures and motifs in Harlem Renaissance art this groundbreaking collection explores the more allusive and elusive references to jazz and blues in a wide range of mostly contemporary visual artists There are scholarly essays on the painters Rose Piper Graham Lock Norman Lewis Sara Wood Bob Thompson Richard H King Romare Bearden Robert G O Meally Johannes V lz and Jean Michel Basquiat Robert Farris Thompson as well an account of early blues advertising art Paul Oliver and a discussion of the photographs of Roy DeCarava Richard Ings These essays are interspersed with a series of in depth interviews by Graham Lock who talks to quilter Michael Cummings and painters Sam Middleton Wadsworth Jarrell Joe Overstreet and Ellen Banks about their musical inspirations and also looks at art's reciprocal effect on music in conversation with saxophonists Marty Ehrlich and Jane Ira Bloom With numerous illustrations both in the book and on its companion website The Hearing Eye reaffirms the significance of a fascinating and dynamic aspect of African American visual art that has been too long neglected
