

WHAT IS A GRAPHIC DESIGNER?

Graphic designers are artistic geniuses, taking words, photos and illustrations and turning them into content marketing gold.

WHAT DOES A GRAPHIC DESIGNER DO?

Graphic designers are visual communicators, using color, imagery, fonts and other elements to attract, inform and convert consumers.

WHY DO I NEED ONE?

Designers take your content to the next level, elevating it from readable to visual. There's no way to keep up with your competition without one.

WHAT MAKES A GOOD GRAPHIC DESIGNER?

A great designer has a well-rounded portfolio with a variety of styles and content types.

They're also very familiar with the primary design software and can talk Adobe Illustrator in their sleep.

Finally, they know what questions to ask. If a designer promises you the moon but doesn't know basic industry terms, run far away.

HOW DO I WORK WITH A DESIGNER?

Know what you need. One of the biggest delays in graphics content production is when marketing teams aren't aligned on the asset's style or goals.

Know what they need. Designers require your branding specifications (think preferred fonts and colors), logos and any high-resolution photos you want to include.

A graphic designer's skills can make or break your content, so choose your designer with care.
