The Survey, 1930 Learning & Living in the 21st Century 4' 2007 Ed., Food Autonomy in Chicago Pancho McFarland, 2025 Through eighteen years of field research dialogues with colleagues deep involvement in the food movement community in Chicago and introspection Pancho McFarland asks Is the loosely connected network of Black and Indigenous land stewards and food warriors in Chicago an anticolonial force for the liberation of all our relations This examination of a sector of the food autonomy movement in Chicago provides important new ways of understanding race relations gender sexuality spirituality pedagogy identity and their importance to the dynamics of social movements Additionally the book explores how revolutionary culture principles and organization of American Indigenous diasporan Africans anarchist Mexicans and others have been adopted adapted or rejected in our food movement In this autoethnography of the food movement McFarland argues that at our best we work to establish a new society like that theorized and enacted by Indigenous and Black anarchists However the forces of Wetiko colonialism capitalism heteropatriarchy and white supremacy make the work of BIPOC food warriors difficult Wetiko's conceptual categories including race gender sexuality and citizenship influence our worldviews and affect our behaviors These limitations and our responses to them are captured in the dialogues and chapters of Food Autonomy in Chicago The Feathered World, 1930 Children's Catalog of Thirty-five Hundred Books H.W. Wilson Company, Corinne Bacon, 1917 Talk Thai Ira Sukrungruang, 2011-01-25 On one side of the door the rich smell of sweet spicy food and the calm of Buddhist devotion on the other the strangeness of a new land When Ira Sukrungruang was born to Thai parents newly arrived in the U S they picked his Jewish moniker out of a book of American names In this lively entertaining and often hilarious memoir he relates the early life of a first generation Thai American and his constant often bumbling attempts to reconcile cultural and familial expectations with the trials of growing up in 1980s America Young Ira may have lived in Oak Lawn Illinois but inside the family s bi level home was Thailand with American conveniences They ate Thai food spoke the Thai language and observed Thai customs His bedtime stories were tales of Buddha and monkey faced demons On the first day of school his mother reminded him that he had a Siamese warrior s eyes despite his thick glasses as Auntie Sue packed his Muppets lunch box with fried rice But when his schoolmates played tag he was always It and as he grew he faced the constant challenge of reconciling American life with a cardinal family rule Remember you are Thai Inside the Thai Buddhist temple of Chicago another simulated Thailand are more rules rules different from those of the Southside streets and we see mainstream Western religion god people through the Sukrungruang family s eyes Within the family circle we meet a mother who started packing for her return to Thailand the moment she arrived her best friend Auntie Sue Ira s second mother who lives with and cooks for the family and a wayward father whose dreams never quite pan out Talk Thai is a richly told account that takes us into an immigrant s world Here is a story imbued with Thai spices and the sensibilities of an American upbringing a story in which Ira practices English by reciting lines from TV sitcoms and struggles with the feeling of not belonging in either of his two worlds For readers who delight in the writings of Amy Tan Gish Jen and other Asian Americans Talk Thai provides generous portions of a still mysterious culture while telling the story of an American boyhood with humor playfulness and uncompromising honesty The Dravidian Nights
