Women Writers and Experimental Narratives Kate Aughterson, Deborah Philips, 2021-01-23 This book explores the history of women's engagement with writing experimentally Women writers have long used different narratives and modes of writing as a way of critiquing worlds and stories that they find themselves at odds with but at the same time as a way to participate in such spaces Experimentation of style mode voice genre and language has enabled women writers to be simultaneously creative and critical engaged in and yet apart from stories and cultures that have so often seen them as other This collection shows that women writers in English over the past 400 years have challenged those ideas not only through explicit polemic and alternative representations but through disrupting the very modes of representation and story itself

Why Can't I Drink Like Everyone Else? Rachel Hart, 2017-06-09 From a certified life coach a guide for the sober curious on how to take a break from alcohol Many people have silently asked themselves why can't I drink like everyone else They wonder why sometimes it feels like alcohol has a pull over them that they don't understand and don't like to talk about They are frustrated that other people can control how much they drink without any problem when their efforts are often hit or miss Rachel Hart has spent years trying to answer these questions for herself and untangle this mystery Deep down she was afraid that her drinking was always going to be a problem and grew more and more frustrated of the repercussions As the years mounted she worried that not being able to rein herself in meant something was really wrong with her There is a solution and it doesn't require anyone to wear a label for the rest of their life or admit to being powerless

In fact the tools outlined inside will reveal just how much power there is within each and every person struggling with this issue
