Wicked 1 The Slobberers:

Wicked! Part 1: the Slobberers Paul Jennings, 1997 Cultural Encounters in Translated Children's Literature

Helen Frank, 2014-04-08 Cultural Encounters in Translated Children's Literature offers a detailed and innovative model of analysis for examining the complexities of translating children's literature and sheds light on the interpretive choices at work in moving texts from one culture to another. The core of the study addresses the issue of how images of a nation, locale, or country are constructed in translated children's literature, with the translation of Australian children's fiction into French serving as a case study. Issues examined include the selection of books for translation, the relationship between children's books and the national and international publishing industry, the packaging of translations, and the importance of titles, blurbs, and covers. The linguistic and stylistic features specific to translating for children, intertextual references, the function of the translation in the target culture, didactic and pedagogical aims, euphemistic language, and explicitation and literariness in translated texts. The findings of the case study suggest that the most common constructs of Australia in French translations reveal a preponderance of traditional Eurocentric signifiers that identify Australia with the outback, the antipodes, the exotic, the wild, the unknown, the void, the end of the world, the young and innocent nation, and the Far West. Contemporary signifiers that construct Australia as urban, multicultural, Aboriginal, worldly, and inharmonious are seriously underrepresented. The study also shows that French translations are conventional, conservative, and didactic, showing preference for an exotic rather than local specificity, with systematic manipulation of Australian referents betraying a perception of Australia as antipodean, rural, exoticism. The significance of the study lies in underscoring the manner in which a given culture is constructed in another cultural milieu, especially through translated children's literature.

Totally Wicked! Paul Jennings, Morris Gleitzman, 2000. From two of Australia's wickedest authors comes this collection of six shocking children's stories: The Slobberers, Battering Rams, Croaked Dead Ringers, The Creeper, and Till Death Us Do Part. A Masterpiece of World Literature: From Classical to Present Era Dr. Rishikesh Tewari, 2025-05-14. This magnum opus, A MASTERPIECE OF WORLD LITERATURE: From Classical To Present Era, is a seminal work that encapsulates the vast expanse of literary theory and criticism, traversing the realms of American, Australian, and Indian literature. This comprehensive tome delves into the complexities of colonial and post-colonial literatures while also exploring the ancient and new literatures in English. Furthermore, it ventures into the domain of comparative literature, offering a nuanced understanding of the diverse literary traditions that have shaped the world's cultural heritage. A distinctive feature of this book is its focus on Contemporary Indian Literature in English Translation, providing a platform for the voices of Indian writers to be heard globally. Additionally, it examines the significance of English studies in India, highlighting the impact of linguistic and cultural diversity on literary expression. By weaving together these disparate threads, this masterpiece presents a rich tapestry of world literature, serving as an invaluable resource for scholars, students, and literature enthusiasts alike. The Slobberers Morris Gleitzman, Paul
