Have you ever considered how mobile media change what we see hear and pay attention to or how they alter our movement through the city Over the last decade mobile media and communication technologies have become deeply integral to our perception and bodily experience of the world In Bodies and Mobile Media Ingrid Richardson and Rowan Wilken explore mobile media as a lens through which to understand how embodiment both shapes and is shaped by media experience It offers a unique approach by focusing on specific sensory affordances and body parts including the eyes ears face hands and feet to consider the uneven ratios of sensory perception at work in our engagement with mobile devices Each chapter provides rich and accessible narratives of mobile media practices interwoven with current scholarship in media studies and phenomenology with a concluding chapter that reflects on mobile media use as a synesthetic experience By interpreting theoretical insights about the relationship between the body and technology the book serves as an important work of knowledge translation This work is crucial the authors argue if we are to critically understand how our perception and experience of the world are mediated by technology This book will be of interest to students and scholars in media communication and cultural studies The People's Home Journal ,1922 Chambers's Journal ,1915 Pattern Makers' Journal ,1913 Journal of Object-oriented Programming ,1996 Washington Education Journal ,1928

New Directions in Social Theory, Education and Embodiment John Evans, Brian Davies, 2014-10-29 This book exemplifies the nurturing spirit of inter discursive debate with a view to opening up new theoretical and empirical insights understanding and engagement with debates on issues relating to pedagogy policy equity and embodiment From a variety of social science perspectives an international force of contributors apply a multitude of concepts to research agendas which illustrate the multiple ways in which the body both impacts culture and is simultaneously and seamlessly positioned and shaped by it maintaining social reproduction of class and cultural hierarchies and social regulation and control They attest that once we begin to trace the flow of knowledge and discourses across continents countries regions and communities by registering their re contextualisation both within various popular pedagogies e g newspapers film TV web pages IT and the formal and informal practices of schools families and peers we are compelled to appreciate the bewildering complexity of subjectivity and the ways in which it is embodied Indeed the chapters suggest that no matter how hegemonic or ubiquitous discursive practices may be they inevitably tend to generate both intended and unexpected affects and effects people and populations cannot easily be determined suppressed or controlled This book was originally published as a special issue of Sport Education and Society
