Introduction
The National Board for Professional Teaching Standards (NBPTS) has developed a set of standards for the teaching profession. These standards are designed to ensure that all teachers meet a high level of performance. The standards are organized into five domains: Professionalism and Ethics, Student Learning, Content Knowledge, Pedagogical Knowledge, and Professional Growth and Development.

Focus
The focus of this document is on the standards for Professionalism and Ethics. This domain includes standards related to the teacher's role as a professional, the teacher's relationship with students, and the teacher's commitment to the profession.

Standards
The standards for Professionalism and Ethics are organized into three categories: Professionalism, Ethics, and the Teacher's Role. The standards in this domain are designed to ensure that all teachers meet a high level of performance in these areas.

Implementation
The standards for Professionalism and Ethics are implemented through a variety of methods, including self-reflection, peer review, and professional development. Teachers are encouraged to engage in ongoing learning and growth in these areas.

Conclusion
The standards for Professionalism and Ethics are essential for ensuring that all teachers meet a high level of performance. These standards provide a clear framework for professional behavior and ensure that teachers are committed to the highest quality of education for their students.
